Thus, after Sebastapool, you conquered us still more by the generosity of your proceedings than by the force of your arms. I shall never forget it. RAILROAD HORRORS!

Eastern and Philadelphia & Erie.

TWENTY-EIGHT PERSONS KILLED.

About Fifty Wounded.

Frightful Collision on the Eastern Railroad, Mass.

BOSTON, August 26.—A frightful accident occurred to-night on the Eastern Railroad at Revere, seven miles from Boston. The accommodation train started behind time, and while stopping at the station at Portland the Lighting Express overtook and telescoped it, killing twenty-one passengers outright, of whom, three were women, and wounding some forty or fifty more. The cars took fire and three were consumed. Most of the wounded were scalded and their limbs fractured. A large number of physicians and surgeons are in attendance. The killed and wounded belonged mostly to Lynn and Salem.

BOSTON, August 27.—The appalling railroad accident at Revere last night caused intense excitement. To-day large crowds visited the scene of the disaster. The railroad officials have cleared away the debris and ruins to day, and the road is in running order again. At the time of the collision the accommodation train for Beverly had its red signal lights behind and a red signal was hoisted at the masthead of the signal post for the express to hold up, which it did at Everett, but subsequently proceeded, and was under full headway when near Revere station, the engineer, evidently not being aware of the proximity of the Beverly train until, perhaps, within sixty rods. He then whistled down brakes, but not soon enough to avert the calamity. Some of the passengers in the cars of the accommodation train heard the ominous whistle, but too late to escape. On came the express train at great velocity, and the engine struck the rearmost car full in the centre, and forced its way in a telescopic manner two-thirds of the length of the car. The smoke stack was instantly knocked off and the boiler penetrated all the distance named into the rear car, the rear part of the latter being smashed into a thousand splinters and throwing the debris out on either side the tender. Of the rear half of the car not a fragment as big as a house window could be found. The fore part of the engine was utterly demolished, its pistons bent and its rods broken. The car was crowded with people, every seat being occupied and many standing in the aisle. In among these the locomotive rushed as quick as a flash, just as the Beverly trains had started, mangling and killing in a most frightful manner. But this was not the only, and perhaps not the worst visitor the unfortunate passengers had. Simultaneously with the collision the head cap of the boiler was broken, and in an instant the wretched sufferers were shrouded in a cloud of hissing steam and deluged with boiling water, which brought instant death to many wounded, and will prove fatal to others who had probably not been otherwise seriously injured. Lamps spilled their contents, and the fire here, if any, was undoubtedly extinguished by the water and steam. Although the Beverly train was just moving when the collision took place, its motion did not prevent injury to the cars in front of the last. The coupling between the two rear cars broke and the platforms of all were jammed up together, with the smoking car overlapping the baggage car, and rods and timber were inextricately mixed and interwoven. Fortunately the entanglement was not as great but that the passengers succeeded in getting out quite speedily. Happy was it for them they did so, for the kerosene oil lamps upset, and their contents were spilled upon the upholstery, and in an instant the smoking car was in a blaze of flame, which traveled with great speed from one car to another until three of them were embraced in the fiery folds. These were subsequently moved up the track half a dozen rods and allowed to burn until there was nothing left. An effort was at first made to put out the fire, but this was prevented, and the flames were useful in lighting up the dreadful scene in the rear. The work of rescuing the victims was at once commenced, assistance being soon furnished from Chelsea and Charlestown, and at a later hour from Boston, including surgeons and physicians.

The Froest Hose Company, just returned from an excursion to Providence, was promptly on the ground, having seen the fire burning. Dozens of poor creatures were jammed with wood and iron work, and could not get out. The axe was applied vigorously and soon a rope applied to the sides of the car and all the remaining frame work pulled asunder. The dead and mangled bodies were taken out and carefully and speedily placed on the platform or in the depot. Some were pinned with splinters. Some had arms and legs broken, while others were mangled beyond recognition. Many, in fact the majority of the dead, were apparently so from bruises, but the peeling of the skin and flesh, and the pallor which over spread the face, told plainly that steam and scalding water had been the frightly and effective agent of death.

The following is a list of the killed up to the present time:

H. F. Shattack, of Lynn; C. B. Shattack, of Lynn; Susan Fiheney, of Lynn; Wm. H. Jegries, of Lynn; E. F. Sanborn, of Providence; Ella Peerson, of Lynn; James Burns, of Lynn; Earnest S. Merrill, Danvers; Hervey A. Foster, of Providence, and Miss Foster, his sister; S. H. Emerton, of Providence; Geo. W. Bancroft, of Beverly; Rev. D. S. R. Mason, of Cambridgeport; Thos. P. Bancroft, of Lynn; Rev. Dr. Ezra Gannot, of Boston; Rev. Erickson, of Swampscott; W. A. Suly, of Beverly; Mrs. P. C. Jasper and J. B Miller, of Merrimac; A. Crowly and two bodies unrecognized; making twenty-four in all.

Rev. D. C. Garnett was on his way to Beverly, where he was to preach to-day.

The following is the list of the wounded in the Massachusets General Hospital: John Buckley, of Beverly; E. Williams, of Lynn; F. Browning, of Salem; S. A. Thayer, of Newton; J. B. Battis, of Salem; Anne Foley, of Boston; Eliza Hatch, of Charlestown. In the City Hospital: F. Fitzpatrick, of Cambridgeport; Jefferson Rowe, of Portsmouth, N. H.; Mary Ana Call, of Boston; Geo. J. Hill, of Lynn; Frank Davis, of Charlestown; Frank B. Colting, treasurer of Grundy & Co; Edmund B. Hall, of B. Hall & Co.; Wm. Lloyd Garrison, Jr., of Bailey, Jenkins & Garrison, wool dealers, scalded.

There are many others injured whose names we were unable to get.

A coroner's jury was summoned to-day by Dr. J. B. Forsyth, of Chelsea, who viewed the bodies and adjourned until to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock.

The total number of injured is between thirty and forty, most of whom are likely to recover. The dead were removed from the scene of the accident this afternoon. Dr. Garnett was recognized to-day at noon. He was killed by his chest being crushed. He was the well known pastor of the Arlington Street Church, and formerly a colleague of the late Dr. Channing, and a man whose loss will be severely felt by the community. Dr. Mason, of Cambridgeport, was also a man of note, and greatly beloved by his congregation.

The public sentiment throws a fearful responsibility upon the conductor and engineer of the express train. The engineer escaped with a few bruises by jumping from the train. The accomodation train was three-quarters of an hour late, which fact, it is said, was known to the managers of the express train.

About two o'clock to-day, while a young man, a resident of Chelsea, was standing on the platform of a car viewing the ruins at Revere, the car started and threw him off. He struck his head upon a rail, and it is supposed he is fatally injured.

Collision on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad.

ERIE, Pa., August 27.—The Erie mail west collided with the first section of the Empire freight east between seven and eight o'clock yesterday morning, when about one and a half miles west of Westport Station, on the middle division of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, causing the death of Reuben Winslow and R. C. Brown, of Lock Haven, passengers; E. W. Hyman of Williamsport, conductor, and Thomas Gannon, of Dunkirk, fireman of the mail train; James W. Ware, of Bellefonte, Pa., conductor, and William Killinger, Pa., engineer of the freight train. Dangerously injuring A. M. Atwater of Lock Haven; Reuben Hiller, of Williamsport; Jas. Shaffer, Jr., of Sennemahoning, Pa., P. McCormick, of Baltimore; engineer of the passenger train. Lesser injuries were sustained by Thos. McNancy, of Wayne, Pa.; A. H. Steel, of Tionesta, Pa.; J. H. Cornwall, of Binghampton, N. Y.; Master R. Fisher, of Lock Haven; G. S. Lacy, of Philadelphia; Judge J. A. Daly, of Tionista; Henry A. Thompson, of Williamsport; E. Van Ripu, of Sennemahoning; Frank Boone, of Altoona, baggage master of the mail train, and Alonzo Lyon, of Renovo, Pa., fireman of the freight train. Others were slightly bruised and scratched.

The passenger train was about an hour late in leaving Williamsport, and was running about thirty-five miles an hour; the freight about eighteen. The trains, meeting on a sharp curve, were not visible to each other till within a few yards, 7nd their speed was not checked. The baggage car was telescoped with the smoking car all but a few feet. The passengers in the two cars in the rear were uninjured.

An official investigation shows that the accident was caused by the neglect of the conductor and engineer of the mail train to obey the orders given them not to pass Westport until the freight train had arrived there. A copy of the order was found in the pocket of the engineer, who was believed to be fatally injured, but later intelligence reports him improving, though still unable to converse.

Jenkins, a well known chemist of this city, at the request of the mayor and others, made a report on different methods of preparing blocks for wooden pavements, in which he condemns the dipping process employed in making the Nicholson pavment, and approved the Bobbin's process of preparing blocks by steaming with vapor tar acids. In some blocks so treated he found carbolic acid in the centre of the block. He says without a process for preservation, wood can never be made lasting nor wholesome paving material.

YELLOW FEVER.

The Disease in Charleston, S. C.

CHARLESTON, S. C., August 26.—The Medical Society of Charleston held a meeting to declare that yellow fever of a mild type does exist to a limited extent in Charleston; that it is mainly one of the neighborhood, and that the first case occurred July 27th. During the month that has elapsed there have been perhaps thirty-five cases, nine of which proved fatal. The disease does not seem of a character disposed to spread. Differences of opinion exist as to the probable spread of the disease. The Board of Health announce that there are indications that the disease is assuming an epidemic form.

MORE FATAL CASES.

CHARLESTON, August 27.—Since last Friday three new cases of yellow fever the cases previously reported proved fatal, have been reported in this city. One of The excitement occasioned by its appearance is subsiding.

WASHINGTON, August 26, 1871.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

The following is the decision of Attorney General Akerman upon the question of the vacancy of the office of First Deputy Commissioner of Revenue:

Department of Justice, Washington, August 25, 1871.—Boutwell, Secretary: Your letter of the 23d inst. requests my opinion upon the question whether there is a vacancy in the office of First Deputy Commissioner of Revenue. The facts of the case I understand to be these: That Mr. Pleasonton, Commissioner of Revenue, has been suspended by the President under the tenure of office act of April 5th, 1869, and that Deputy Douglass, First Deputy Commissioner, has been designated by the President to perform the duties of the suspended officer. Does this designation vacate the office Douglass, Deputy Commissioner, a holder of office, vacates, by the acceptance of another incompatable office. He does not vacate it by temporarily performing the duties of another office, when such temporary performance is permitted by law. Under the tenure of office act Mr. Pleasanton is still Commissioner of Internal Revenue, because his term had not expired. He has not been removed with the advice and consent of the Senate, and the appointment by and with the like advice and consent of his successor to his place. Attorney General Hoar, in an opinion not yet published, dated April 2d, 1871, uses this language in relation to these acts: "The word suspended imports that the person suspended is still the incumbent of the office; that the interruption of its duties is temporary and provisional." The second section of the act of April 5th, 1868, in its directions to the President on the subject of nominations at the commencement of each session of the Senate, clearly distinguishes between offices that are vacant and the offices of incumbents that are suspended. The Commissionership of Internal Revenue is in the latter category. Pleasonton is Commissioner. By temporary appointment to perform the Commissioner's duties, Mr. Douglas does not acquire the office of Commissioner. Through special provisions of the tenure of office act he becomes entitled to the salary and emoluments of the Commissioner while he performs the duties of that office. The question then occurs whether a Deputy Commissioner can, without vacating his office, receive a designation to perform the duties of Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The act of March 3d, 1863, section 14, provides for the appointment of a Deputy Commissioner, and prescribed among his duties that of Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue in the absence of that officer; 12 Statutes, 725, 6. The same duty is re enacted in the 3d section of the act of June 30th, 1864, Statutes 224. The duty thus prescribed is again recognized in the 64th section of the Internal Revenue act of July 13th, 1866, 14th Statutes, 170. Thus it appears to have been specially made the duty of the Deputy Commissioner to act as Commissioner in the absence of that officer. The act of July 23d, 1868, to authorize the temporary supplying of vacancies in executive departments, provides in the 2d section that in the death, resignation, absence or sickness of the chief of any bureau or any office thereof, the deputy of such chief or such office shall, unless otherwise directed by the President, perform the duties of such chief or such officer until his successor shall be appointed or until such absence or sickness shall cease. The third section of the same act prohibits any officer so performing the duties of his chief from receiving extra compensation for such service. From these citations it is apparent that the law, both in its general and in its special provisions, not only permits, but requires, the Deputy Commissioner to act as Chief Commissioner in certain cases, and that he does not lose his own office by such substitution if Mr. Douglass would not have vacated the Deputy Commissionership. Acting as Commissioner in the case of the absence, resignation or death of Mr. Pleasonton, he does not vacate his office by acting as Commissioner under the President's designation during the suspension of Mr. Pleasonton. The tenure of office act entitles him, under such designation, to the salary of Mr. Pleasonton, which he would not have received if acting under the previous statutes above cited. The act of the 30th of September, 1850, statutes 542, page 333, prohibits the allowance to one individual of the salaries of two different offices on account of having performed the duties thereof at the same time. The conclusion is that Douglass is still First Deputy Commissioner, but is entitled, as long as he performs the Commissioner's duties under the President's designation, to the salary of the Commissioner only.

Very respectfully,

[Signed] AKERMAN.

WASHINGTON, August 27, 1871.

THE WEATHER.

The barometer has risen at the Rocky Mountain stations and in the northwest since Saturday afernoon, with a decided fall in temperature. Rain and clouds have been reported west of Iowa, but pleasant weather has generally prevailed over that region. The pressure has risen slightly in the Gulf States, with southerly winds and pleasant weather. The nucleas of the cyclone, which was yesterday in northern Georgia, has advanced rapidly toward Ohio, and thence northeastward to central New York, losing the characteristics of a cyclone, and continuing with the low pressure existing last night. The central disturbance is now in Vermont. Heavy rains have fallen from the center of Lake Erie northeastward. Brisk northwest and west winds have prevailed from Virginia to Massachussetts.

Probabilities—Partially cloudy and warm weather is probable for Monday for the Southern and Gulf States, and cool weather with northwesterly winds from Lake Huron to New York and Virginia. The Butler-Hawley Affair—The Eight Hour Law—Democratic Central Club—Bodies Recovered—Swindlers Arrested—Canal Boat Sunk—City and County Accounts—The Westfield Explosion—Mayor Hall and the "Times"—A Dead Female in a Trunk—Coroner's Inquest—Yachting—Editor Arrested.

NEW YORK, August 26, 1871.

THE BUTLER-HAWLEY AFFAIR.

Intelligence from Hartford reports that when the offensive allusion to Governor Hawley was made in Butler's speech, the reporter of Hawley's paper, the Courant, who was present at the meeting, telegraphed the fact to Hawley, and that when Hawley's dispatch was handed to Butler at the close of the meeting, he said: "The man who will denounce me as a liar and a blackguard, is not a fit associate for gentlemen. I want nothing more to do with him. Hawley is represented as saying the words liar and blackguard have an appropriate place in the English language. Though I may not be an impartial judge, this is one of the times where they may be properly used." It is also represented that the difficulty between Butler and Hawley has its foundation in the fact of the election of Hawley as President of the Army of the James Association, for which Butler was an aspirant.

WESTFIELD EXPLOSION.

Among the persons injured by the Westfield explosion were the Mayor and other officers of Syracuse, who were visiting this city at the time. They have commenced legal proceedings for damages. The Brooklyn coroner will not issue warrants for the arrest of President Vanderbilt and others, of the Westfield, who are held responsible by the coroner's jury, unless advised to do so by the District Attorney of the county. The District Attorney is now absent.

BODIES RECOVERED.

The Nautical Gazette of this city has official information that the bodies of acting third assistant engineer G. W. McGowan, H. W. Meriam, A. Mitchell and M. Shoenberg, who were attached to the monitor iron clad Weehawken, when she was sunk in Charleston harbor on the 6th of December, 1863, have been taken from the wreck, having been found at their posts in the engine room of that vessel, and that they will reach here this week.

CITY AND COUNTY ACCOUNTS.

The clerk of the Common Council states that the city accounts have been sent to the printers. The county accounts of 1869 and 1870 are now in the clerk's office of the Board of Supervisors, open to public inspection. They appear to be compiled in the usual form. They are mostly manuscript, and it would take one or more expert accountants several days to examine, analyze and compare them.

CANAL BOAT SUNK.

It is reported that the Propellor Annie, of Wilmington, Delaware, ran down a canal boat on the Raritan River on Tuesday during a dense fog. The canal boat was struck amidship and sank in a few minutes. Captain O. Thurlan, his two sons and a daughter are said to have been drowned.

SWINDLERS ARRESTED.

Arrests were made this afternoon of a gang of swindlers on Ann street. The premises were flooded with circulars offering counterfeit money for sale, and contained innumerable boxes filled with sawdust, together with letters about the stuff, directed to all parts of the States.

THE EIGHT HOUR LAW.

The Workingmen's Union last evening discussed the proposed demonstration in favor of the eight hour law, and instructed their delegates to vote for a festival in the afternoon and evening, each union attending it as it may see fit. It is thought the demonstration will muster thirty thousand strong.

DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL CLUB.

A meeting of prominent local Democratic politicians was held last evening to perfect an organization to be termed the Central Club, but the election of officers was deferred. There is considerable activity among the local Democracy, and the organization of clubs is going on rapidly.

MAYOR HALL AND THE "TIMES."

Mayor Hall has declared his intention to sue the Times for the rent for the past six years of the ground on which the Times building stands. He also states he will move at once for the appointment of a receiver.

MYSTERIOUS.

A trunk containing the body of a female about twenty-five years old, who had died from abortion, was left at the Hudson River Railroad depot yesterday. A respectable looking woman presented a ticket and had the trunk checked for Chicago. No arrests were made, although it is thought that the parties who brought the trunk to the depot will soon be apprehended.

NOT IDENTIFIED.

No clue has been obtained to the identity of the woman who left the trunk containing the remains of the victim of abortion at the Hudson River depot. The truckman and the driver of the coupe which brought the woman to the depot, who had been arrested on suspicion, have been discharged, there being no evidence against them. The latter states that he does not know who the woman was, and he drove her to the depot in the ordinary way of business. The boy, Alexander Parks, who assisted in carrying the trunk into the depot, failed to identify the truckman. The police are making strenuous efforts to unravel the mystery. The houses of noted abortionists are under the strictest surveillance.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

Coroner Herman made a post mortem examination of the body of an unknown female discovered on Saturday in a trunk left at the Hudson River Railroad depot for Chicago. The verdict was that the cause of death was inflammation of the bowels, brought on by abortion. The corpse is evidently a young woman of eighteen or nineteen years of age; the features are pleasing; hair light; height about five feet two inches. Methtarat Trap, a truck driver, has been arrested on suspicion of taking the trunk to the depot.

CHICAGO.

Agricultural Convention.

CHICAGO, August 26.—The Agricultural Educational Convention completed its labors last night. Prof. Hamilton, of Pennsylvania, gave some account of the Agricultural College of that State. The College begun in the woods and without an endowment. The labor principle was carried out to a greater extent than in any other college in the land. The principal experiment was made in reference to rotation in crops, their method of culture, different applications of manure, of its effects on soils, and comparative value of different seeds, grains and vegetables.

Professor McAfee, of Wisconsin, gave an account of his experiment at farming near Madison. His experiment had been so far successful. The principal experiments had been testing varieties of oats, wheat, barley and corn, the durability of wood by artificial agents, amount per acre that different grains yield, and the weight of grain, planting of corn, etc. It was then voted that all future meetings be held at agricultural colleges.

CLERICAL TROUBLES.

Another correspondence has passed between the wardens of Christ Church and Bishop Whitehouse. It will be recollected that a short time since the Bishop made known his intention to make an Episcopal visitation to Christ church, and stated that the pastorate was vacant and he would bring with him some duly qualified minister to present candidates for confirmation. To this the wardens replied that Mr. Cheney was their rector and would receive the Bishop and present the candidates. Soon after it was stated in one of the morning papers that Mr. Cheney would be conveniently absent on the occasion of the Bishop's visit. To correct this error the wardens of Christ church sent a letter to Bishop Whitehouse denying any such intent on the part of Mr. Cheney. The wardens say that, adhering to the position already stated, they take this mode of disabusing the mind of the Bishop of any possible impression that the Rev. Mr. Cheney will officiate as rector of Christ church whenever he (the Bishop) shall hold a visitation.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

As a train from the South on the Iron Mountain Railroad was approaching Jefferson Barracks, about ten o'clock last night, it struck a badly-spiked rail, and three cars were thrown from the track. No one was seriously injured. As the excursion train bearing the National Educational Convention was immediately behind, much apprehension was felt lest a collision should occur, but it was promptly signalled and stopped. A train was sent from Carondalet to the barracks, and the passengers were all brought to the city about midnight.

STOMACH TO BE ANALYZED.

The stomach of Mrs. Angaline, who died suddenly at Chillicothe, Ill., last Sunday, arrived here yesterday in charge of Dr. Dockey for analysis, to ascertain whether it contains poison. Mrs. Angaline died under peculiar circumstances, which led to the suspicion that she had been poisoned, and her husband, Benj. F. Angaline, was arrested for the act.

THE KANKAKEE SWINDLE.

CHICAGO, August 27.—The Tribune has a special from Laporte, Indiana, giving an account of a meeting held in that city yesterday, of the citizens of northwestern Indiana, who are interested in defeating what is known as the "Kankakee drainage" swindle. The counties of St. Joseph, Laporte, Porter, Jasper, Lakes, Newton and Stork were represented. The meeting was largely attended, and the action unanimous. After the meeting had been called, previous to the day of its assembly, the President of the company published his withdrawal from the concern, as did also F. C. McCurdy, an active member, and Hon. James Bradley, the attorney Charles Laueer, a New York banker, who was to negotiate a loan, also gives it as his opinion that the newspapers have thoroughly stopped the sale of the bonds, and he will have nothing further to do with the concern. Hon. Charles Cathcart, United States Senator, presided at the meeting. A committee of one from each county represented was appointed to prepare resolutions, who reported a series, of which the following is a synopsis: That in the opinion of this meeting the Kankakee Drainage Company has no legal authority to construct the work proposed, and that their action thus far is invalid; that they will invidually and collectively resist the collections of the assessments and mortgages; that said company ought to dissolve and surrender their pretended charter immediately. Speeches were made by Mr. Cathcart, Judge Osborne, Gen. Packard, the representative in Congress from that district, and others. A committee of two was appointed to bring suit in the United States Court to test the constitutionality of the loan creating the corporation, and to raise funds for that purpose.

CONGRESSMAN RESIGNED.

Hon. Barton P. Cook, representative from the Sixth Illinois District, has resigned his seat for the purpose of accepting the position of solicitor of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company.

ARRESTED.

He was released on $10,000 bail for his appearance to answer the charge. He says he wants the fullest examination.

The steamship Lodona stranded six miles north of Canavaret. The beach for thirty miles is strewn with her cargo. The captain and twenty men were lost The first officer, second officer, chief engineer, first assistant engineer, the cook, one fireman, Captain Havey's mess boy and five seamen were saved.

The brig S. and W. Welsh, of Philadelphia, went ashore fifteen miles south of Cape Canavaret. Her cargo, of sugar, was washed ashore. The captain was drowned.

The brig H. G. Berry, of Baltimore, went ashore fifty yards from the wreck of the S. and W. Welsh. She is a total wreck. She had a cargo of sugar and molasses.

The barque Hilda, from New Orleans, went ashore six miles south of St. Augustine, with a cargo of tobacco and stores, and is a total loss. One man drowned.

—Louis Engelhart, while driving rapidly in Cummingsville, Ohio, last night, ran against a wagon, in which were William Spreen, his wife and children, upset it, threw them all out, breaking tht arms of Mr. and Mrs. Spreen, the leg of one child, and injuring the other. Engelhart was arrested.

—There has been a severe storm on the line of the Atlantic Gulf, Jacksonville, Pensacola and Mobile railroads.

ST. LOUIS.

Railroad Sale.

ST. LOUIS, August 26.—The North Missouri Railroad was sold at public auction at the Court House this afternoon for two million dollars cash, Morris K. Jessup, of New York, being the successful bidder. Thirty five hundred shares in the St. Charles bridge across the Missouri river belonging to the North Missouri Railroad Company were then sold at twenty five dollars per share, Jessup being the buyer. Previous to the sale of the road notices were read by various parties that the sale would be contested, and the County Court and County Collector warned purchasers that they had claims against the road, to which the sale would be subject.

PETITION FILED.

Messrs. Clover and Baker, Attorneys for St Louis county, filed a bill in the Circuit Court to set aside as fraudulent the deed of trust under which the North Missouri Railroad was sold to-day. The suit is against the Board of Directors of the road. The petition is very lenghthy, and gives a full history of the road and its management since the first organization of the company. Morris K. Jessup, the purchaser of the North Missouri Railroad, is a large owner in the Jacksonville branch of the Chicago, Alton and St. Louis road, a heavy stockholder in the Kansas Pacific Railroad, and largely interested in the St. Charles bridge, over which the North Missouri road crosses the Missouri river at St. Charles. The amount of the first mortgage bonds assumed by the purchaser is six millions. There is also a floating debt of about two and a half millions more, which, it is believed, will be paid, making the amount actually bid for the road about ten millions, which is said to be not more than one half what it is really worth. It is said the road will continue to be run in the interest of St. Louis and by its present manager, but it is likely that a gap between Maberly and Louisiana will soon be constructed by the Chicago & Alton Company, which will give Chicago another direct connection with the Kansas Pacific road, and a through route to Colorado.

SLANDER SUIT.

C. F. Mills entered suit in the Circuit Court to-day against General Clinton B. Fisk for slander, laying his damages at $75,000. Mills and Fisk were formerly partners in the insurance business, and dissolved in consequence of alleged irregularities on the part of Mills, subsequent to which Fisk charged and published Mills with being a defaulter.

WOOLEN EXPOSITION.

ST. LOUIS, August 27.—The woolen exposition, which is to be held here in connection with the agricultural and mechanical fair during the first week in October, promises to be a great success. Already four thousand superficial feet of space has been engaged, and applications from all directions are being received daily. This exposition will be in a building assigned specially for that purpose, and there will be an abundance of room for all who may desire to exhibit their fabrics. The display of agricultural machinery promises to be unusually large. Fifteen acres of ground, besides a building some two hundred feet in length, is to be allotted to this department.

AMBOY, ILL.

Destructive Fire.

AMBOY, Ill., August 26.—The following are the particulars of the fire last night:

The fire originated on Main street in a bakery owned by D. A. Coubrn, and the wind blowing strong from the east, the flames soon enwrapped a furniture store adjoining, owned by Vanehan, and here spread east and west, sweeping everything before them in this block, until a sudden change in the wind to the north checked their career here. But now the buildings on the opposite or south side of the street caught fire, and all except two were consumed before the flames could be got under, they spreading as on the north side. To the east and the west on this side of the street was the city building and jail, which was entirely destroyed. A prisoner named John Shannon, who had been placed in jail the evening before, was burned to death before assistance could reach him. Altogether twelve brick and seven frame buildings were destroyed, and several injured.

TRAMP, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching,
Cheer up, comrades, do not fail,
For we will not mind the heat,
But will march to Stevenson street,
And get a keg of Pier, Dannals & Co.'s Cream Ale.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

7-30 GOLD LOAN
OF THE
Northern Pacific Railroad.
RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad (begun July last,) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including its purchase of the St. Paul & Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 360.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling, and unhesitatingly recommend as a profitable and perfectly safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. gold interest, (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS, and also, as fast as the road is completed, on 23,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 500 acres for each $1,000 bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; principal and interest are payable in gold; Denominations: Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

LANDS FOR BONDS.—Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUND.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The land grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment accessible to the people which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit, and greatly increasing their yearly income.

OTHER SECURITIES.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current prices in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven Thirties. EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received, and on Seven-Thirties sent in return will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc. can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by

LOUISVILLE
CEMENT.
The Best--The Cheapest.
The Cement has acquired the reputation as the first in the country in hydraulic strength and uniform reliability.
It is now in general use from the lakes to the Gulf, most of the public works in the West and South being constructed with it.
The mills at Louisville having been enlarged and improved, can supply any demand, and though the Cement has always, for 30 years brought higher prices than competing brands, it is from this time the determination of the manufacturers, in order to largely increase the sale and extend the use of their Cement, to furnish it in the principal markets at prices which make it the most available and economical for all classes of work.
The large capacity of this Cement for taking sand renders it much the cheapest that can be used for buildings of any kind.
At the reduced prices in Pittsburgh its cost is not much above common lime, which makes it unquestionably to the interest of owners and builders that the foundation of every good house should be laid in this Cement.
A large stock of fresh Cement has just been received by barges from Louisville, and is offered at greatly reduced prices by the following dealers:

THE Harrisburg Telegraph is particularly savage on George O. Evans, the alleged defaulter. Its bitterness leads the uninitiated to think that some old score is being paid to the agent who now rests under a thin cloud, by the irate editor of that journal.

WE present this morning to our readers a very interesting letter from New York, written by our esteemed friend, T. Q. T., a gentleman who has made a national reputation as an able and spicy newspaper correspondent. His views on the Evans case will be read with special interest as they may be regarded as coming from a disinterested quarter, and as an impartial review of the question.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Chronicle makes a most excellent suggestion concerning a pest hospital. It is that the Board of Health purchase some old steamboat—the dismantled Victor now lying at the Allegheny wharf is suggested—spend enough money upon it to fit it thoroughly for the purpose, and then moor it in the middle of the Monongahela river. To us this plan seems open to fewer objections than any heretofore suggested, as it removes the sick from all contact with the outer world, and, at the same time, does not bring any one portion of our citizens any more within reach of contagion than the remainder.

MERCHANTS tell us that people in the surrounding country are so alarmed by the reports concerning the small pox in this city, that their fall trade is liable to be materially injured thereby. Now, while there is no epidemic at present in this city, the highways and byways, the alleys and courts are in such a condition as to invite disease, while there is a large amount of disease already existing. This state of affairs, while it is dangerous and threatening to the citizen who has to live amidst it, can not be said to be such as should alarm mere strangers or visitors. It is for fear that our cities may be visited by some deadly epidemic disease, that the press has so vigorously tried to awaken the health officers to a little activity. There is no danger whatever in visiting here now, nor is there likely to be if those officers will but do their duty.

THE OFFER of one thousand dollars for the best method of navigating the Erie canal by steam, has so stimulated invention that it seems very probable, now, that there will be several practicable steam canal boats produced, whereas such a thing has, heretofore, been generally regarded as a sort of utopian affair, very desirable but not possible. The success in this case tends to prove the advisability of offering large rewards for the invention of any desideratum. The fact that such offers are made is almost certain to attract the attention of persons of inventive genius to the desired object, which, otherwise, might never have been thought of by them and, for a man who wants a shovel more than any thing else in the world, there is very little satisfaction in knowing that some one has just invented so ingenious a poker that he most assuredly could have produced the desired shovel if he had but thought of trying. There is one thing which Pittsburgh wants more than anything else. Some place in the unseen world the elements of an ideal smoke consumer are hovering, awaiting the genius who is to bring them into a conjunctive existence. That that ideal shall some day become real, we do not doubt, and we think we see the smiling white walls and umbrageous green trees of Pittsburgh, after the discovery of a machine which will be of pecuniary profit to its user, while it eats smoke so greedily that not one particle escapes. The offer of one hundred thousand dollars reward seems to have secured to Buffalo and the state of New York in general, the moon for which it cried. Can Pittsburgh take a hint?

POPULAR EDUCATION.

The National Educational Assembly that met in session at St. Louis, last week was a very important gathering. We have generally regarded a convention of teachers as something akin to a mutual admiration society, for in no other profession does the spirit of egotism rise higher. And that is a very natural and very excusable fault. The good ladies and gentlemen who are charged with the education of our youths are ordinarily left severely alone by their peers in other professions and in dealing with weaker intellects which they must develop and strengthen they necessarily become dogmatic. But the St. Louis convention seemingly made a departure. The delegates have nobly come down to business and all deliberations have been marked with wisdom and an earnest desire to advance the educational interests of the country. Aside from Gov. Brown's quaint idea that children should be educated concerning crime and criminals, we can see little that can be regarded as objectionable in the debates, deliberations and proceedings of the teachers. The question of compulsory education seemed to have had many warm advocates in the affirmative in the body. We do not know that our free country is prepared to accept such an arbitrary measure just now, but we do know that should it prevail the annals of crime would not be so fearful as at present on each returning year. While we have startling contradictions to the truth of the assertion that education goes not well with vice, crime and immorality, still we hold to the opinion that just in proportion as a nation is educated in that proportion the list of felons and wrongdoers is thinned. Educated criminals may be more astute, and sagacious than the ignorant ones and the impression left by their deeds on the public mind is much greater and more lasting than that from crimes committed by intellectually inferior beings. At the same time, however, ruling out the rare and isolated cases that can be cited in argument, a man with an educated mind is far less liable to do wrong than he who lives in ignorance. By the very nature of school training he is taught a keen discrimination between that which is right and elevating and that which is wrong and debasing. It would be a happy day for our land if all parents, guardi... charged with the responsibility o... young should voluntarily and ... compulsion, recognize the importance of affording them a good education. The ambition so to do, yearly grows stronger, and the time is not very far distant, when, under the kindness of God, and the advantages of the glorious and ever improving common school system, to discover an American born unable to read, write and cipher, will be as difficult a task as to find a diamond in the Allegheny river. Thanks to our free institutions to-day, no great country in the world can show as favorable a record in the way of educated masses as the United States, and most particularly the northern section thereof, wherein the public schools have long been nourished, cherished and liberally supported.

The subject of general and popular free education is one pregnant with importance to the people, and most especially to the untrammeled press of the land. Well together with the latter goes the great power of civilization. Well together do they work out the holy mission set apart for them by an All wise Being, harmonizing the human family, bringing each member into close communion with art, science and knowledge, spreading truth, enlarging man's sphere of usefulness and smoothing the rough pathway through life to eternity. Closely together are allied the press and the public school. The power and influence of the former is almost in exact proportion to the weight, measure, capacity, and successful operation of the other. To the system of popular education now and for years past so common to our country, more than to any other cause, is due the great power and influence of the press of to-day, and who will deny the truth of the assertion? Contrast the newspapers of our own generation with those of half a century ago. How the well-filled columns of news, the pointed editorials, the teeming pages of advertisements of the great journals of the day, stand out in singular contrast with the best newspapers of half a century ago. There was as much journalistic wisdom and ability then as now in the world; but education, the power to read and comprehend, was not so universal, and hence the press had little influence, and no matter how well conducted, the journal eked out a miserable existence. At that early day there were no proud common school buildings dotting the land. Education was confined to the few. A great change came when the broad gateway of knowledge was thrown open to the sons and daughters of rich and poor, and the public school became the people's college, into which all were free to enter on equal terms and conditions. As the schools developed and increased, the great masses became educated and more refined in their tastes. They formed a better element in society. They became worthier the proud title of citizens of America. Just as they advanced, the press prospered and rapidly expanded into new importance. It became the higher educator of all the people of the land, and rode into a position of mighty power and great influence. Strengthened by the vast army of citizens who have graduated from the common schools, the press of to-day holds a firm place in the public heart and shapes public opinion for good or for evil. It is the power above all other powers of the nation. Hence, it is that all honest journalists who appreciate the grave responsibilities attending their calling, must find themselves arrayed in the cause of free, general and popular education. They must lend words of aid and encouragement to those noble educators who engage to mould and mend the mind and morals of the oncoming generations. Their duty is to train and bring up readers and supporters for the press, good citizens for the country, honest and honorable members for society; and their labors are worthy all possible laudation and encouragement.

JOURNALISTIC GOSSIP.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 23, 1871.

The newspapers of New York are what you might call very lively now-a-days. They teem with fresh local news. "Local news" in this great metropolitan city is not precisely what a country editor understands by the term. I do not mention, in a belittling sense, the hard-work-and-poor-pay results of our rural journalists. They do the best they can, perhaps, with the limited material at hand. George Washington did that, as history tells us, at Valley Forge, when men—soldiers, lived, and froze, and died, barefooted and starving, in the old times of patriotism. That was country journalism compared with New York journalism, just as the army of the paternal relative of his country at Valley Forge stands as a historic contrast to the magnificiently equipped army of Kaiser William at Sedan, or Grant with his hosts before Richmond. While all of us must admire the brilliancy and bigness of New York journalism, (and I confess that I regard it as the finest, piquant, most potent journalism of the world,) there is much to command our enthusiastic admiration of what is sometimes, in lingo, called provincial journalism, particularly when a metropolitan paper is attempting to chaff one of our best newspapers of a western city, say like Pittsburgh or Cincinnati. Of course the immediate surroundings necessarily exert a vast influence upon the journalism which is the outgrowth of the locality. For instance, in a "mean little green little one-horse town" (as the song jingles it,) the rushing through an unpaved highway of a rather infuriated bull,—one which had perhaps gazed gently on a red rag, or any other Communist's insignia—and he, followed in close and wild proximity by a large number of the villages' yellow-tailed dogs; and they succeeded in line by the surplus and ragged juvenile population would be an "event extraordinary," and at least half a column of the next issue of the Weekly Buglehorn would be brilliantly and poetically devoted to a philosophical disquisition on bulls, boys and dogs. Now, local items in our National commercial metropolis are of a different sort. The plane is higher. The discussion of the city government, and its peculations and wickedness has comprised much of the local interest so far for a month. The terrible Westfield boiler explosion murder, filled page after page for a fortnight. Previously, the Orangemen-Hibernian riot was a fruitful theme for local writing and reading matter.

THE TRIBUNE.

The Tribune is interestingly solid under the live management of Mr. Reid. Greeley contributes heavy and controversial matters. He is always appealing to the reason. Whitelaw Reid is fancifully interesting. He is, contrary to the impression of many who meet him casually, a pleasant gentleman in a conversational way, though not, I should judge, to be termed a "socialist."

THE WORLD.

The World is, as always, spicy and unsparing, with a vein of reckless partisanism pervading it. Were it surprised with a conscience some lucky day, retaining its brains and sparkle, it could redeem all that Manton Marble, Tammany Hall and Jennie June's husband have ever inflicted it and its readers with.

THE STANDARD.

The Standard is growing faithfully and firmly. The young gentlemen who stand unremittingly by its side at its back, all around it (John Russell Young and James R. Young, brothers) are practical, experienced journalists, and they love their work and their sprightly paper. It will win its way to the top of the ladder.

THE TIMES.

The Times awoke, like Rip Van Winkle from his score of years up among the Hudson hills, the other day, and astonished even the natives of this terrible town with its exposure of Tammany frauds. There's always something readable about the Times, if people do call it old fogy. Its correspondence is usually fair, and sometimes good; while it is generally well edited. Mr. Jones, its publisher, is a good manager and pleasant gentleman.

THE HERALD.

The Herald—pshaw! everybody knows its character and its history. It is the only example of brazen and reckless journalism claiming respectability in the world.

DANA'S SUN.

Though I must not forget that wild, erratic affair presided over by that brilliant man with a checkered life, the Sun of Dana. It is newsy, gossipy, a brigand, a pleasant pirate, often genial with big frowns in the back shadows, and full of the liveliest kind of sensation,—too often, however, for the best tone of public morals, bordering upon the vulgar. But Dana and his assistants are not cowards, if we judge by the way they "strike from the shoulder."

EVENING JOURNALS.

The evening papers are not good, generally speaking. The old Post (just opposite the postoffice) is staid and soporific, while the Mail is spicier. The Telegram is not worth a d——ecayed onion, and I don't see why it isn't dead and forgotten long ago.

But outside of the mere matter of intest in news, of a spicy or local character, the solid journals here do big things once in a while as well as common things. They go over the whole country, and are ready to do justice. This remark, written from a generic standpoint, brings to ony mind a subject of importance to Pennsylvania.

Yesterday's Tribune contained an extract from the Philadelphia North American reflecting unjustly upon a citizen of your Keystone State.

late State Agent of Pennsylvania at Washington. Of course you are familiar with the discussion concerning him and his labors, now going on in many papers of Pennsylvania and elsewhere. I do not know but the GAZETTE has itself taken an active part in such discussion. I am aware of the fact that many leading journals, both within and without Pennsylvania, have considered the subject, and devoted column after column to its merits and lements, viewing it from the standpoint of information possessed.

As humanity, in bulk and individually, is fallible, and as journalists of all special ranks are liable to the errors of ordinary humanity, it must not be assumed that all of them have been malicious in publishing a certain statement of (presumed) facts. Yet this involves the gist of this personality. Here is a gentleman of universally known and acknowledged probity and honesty, Mr. George O. Evans, who is first viciously assaulted in Republican, then in Copperhead journals; he is chargwith a huge financial crime; he is described not as a starving person, sneaking into one man's buttery and stealing a loaf of bread, but as a public thief (or what is its equivalent), who perforce steals hundreds of thousands of dollars of the money belonging to the great commonweath of Pennsylvania. He would stand as a public, not as a private, criminal, if the charges made were true; for it would be a spectacle of a man fi'ching from a whole populace. I say these charges have been made. The New York World reiterated them in its last Sunday's issue. In a column editorial, the World goes over the ground pretty thoroughly, and discovers a magnificent "mare's nest." Mirabile dictu! That the New York World, edited and owned by Manton Marble, and Tammany Hall, and the Albany Rings, and et id genus omne, with its long fingers in the pie of peculation from the day of its birth, should discover that Mr. George O. Evans has been guilty of wrongdoing in the conduct of the State agency of Pennsylvania! On the face of it there is the height of absurdity. Now the World has borrowed its cue from the items in certain Republican papers, organs of certain "rings" or "cliques" of politicians in Pennsylvania; and it amuses itself by imagining that it is playing an elegant game. The moment it joggles to one side and see it reflect in the mirror of public opinion and truth, it will discover that long ears wabble about its head, and shaggy gray hair covers its body, and that it is a very delightful jackass. Speaking of Mr. Evans, the World chooses to remark that "the gravest charge is that he fixed his compensation at the outside figure mentioned in the resolution under which he was commissioned, and paid that compensation to himself." If that is the gravest charge, our friend Mr. Evans must be an angel contrasted with the World. If the Legislature of Pennsylvania did not want 10 per cent. of its accounts to go to the collector thereof, why did it authorize that portion to be paid? "Put yourself in his place," now, and let's sees how its will work. John Smith says to John Brown, "I have in my hand an account, which, Mr. Brown, I desire you to collect. It is for $1,000; and the limit I am willing to pay for collection is 10 per cent. That will be $100, if you win. But nothing, if you fail. Good morning, Mr. Brown."

HOW THE THING WORKS.

Mr. Brown departs. After risking time and money, he succeeds in recovering the $1,000. What, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, would be the report of Mr. Brown to Mr. Smith? This, as every honest man knows, viz:

MR. SMITH—Sir:—Enclosed find $1,000 less the per cent. (10) agreed on for collection, and believe me yours, &c.,

JOHN BROWN.

When the Pennsylvania Legislature passed the following resolutions, viz.:

WHEREAS, There is supposed to be due by the United States to the State of Pennsylvania various amounts for disbursements made during the rebellion, but disallowed by the accounting officers of the General Government;

AND WHEREAS, It is believed by carefully supplying deficient testimony many of the amounts may be collected; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsyzvania in General Assembly met, That the Govenor be and he is hereby authorized to appoint a special agent to collect the disallowed and suspended claims against the United States, whose compensation for that purpose shall not exceed ten per centum of the amounts thus collected, and shall be paid out of such collections.

It positively asserted—about as positively as the English language is capable of asserting—that

1. Govenor Geary is given carte blanche power to select and appoint an agent.

2. That said agent could be employed to do the service for ten per cent. of the amount collected.

3. That this compensation "shall be paid out of said collection."

Are not those propositions sufficiently emphatic? Are they in any sense ambiguous? What sane man will, after due reflection, first, as a business proposition, or, as a patriotic one, admit that a person should waste years of his valuable life, in pursuit of the objects so graphically described in the quoted legislative resolve, and yet retire modestly from the field of labor with no pay, or simply a bread-and-butter compensation? The people, I thought, were satisfied with the "Bread-and-Butter Brigade" business in 1866, when "Andy" swung around the circle.

WAS IT REGULAR?

But the Coppery World complains that Mr. Evans,"paid that compensation to himself." Now that is sad. How so modest a paper as the New York World, ever discovered a theory so sublime as that of transfering to other hands moneys that belong to the first person singular number, and then trusting to the generosity and magnaminity of political "rings" to return it, (with ten per cent interest of course!) is a subject which I leave to the fascinating and eccentric Darwin himself. Who ever heard of a business man,—say a professional man,—a lawyer, a Real Estate Agent, any "Agent" or "Representative," proceeding with work for any length of time, and accomplishing it, then, walking up to headquarters and depositing "with a smile that was child-like and bland," the whole sum, in toto, of collections, without retaining the per cent? Would the rebel New York World publish a fifty cent advertisement for a poor starving servant girl, who sought safety from degradation by honest labor through asking a cold hearted world for work one time? Would it or any journal that has assaulted Geo. O. Evans, do so? No! Never! Yet these papers malign him for simply reserving his commission form moneys collected. The World's suggestion is ridiculous in the extreme.

A POINT RAISED.

Perhaps the World does not know it, but it is well-known to every intelligent person, familiar with the rules governing the Department of the Auditor General and State Treasurer of Pennsylvania, that no money can be paid out of the Treasury without a legislative appropriation. This per cent. to pay for the settlement of the affairs between Pennsylvania and the general government, was not to be paid from the Treasury of Pennsylvania, but from the collections themselves, as the closing line of the legislative resolution so clearly and positively declares.

But here is another excerpt from that delicious sheet, the World:

"The covenant reads that Mr. Evans is to pay over the amounts collected "less the compensation allowed," but as no compensation is named Governor Geary cannot be considered as covenanting any further than the law itself, to wit, that it should not exceed 10 per cent."

Manton Marble says "No compensation is named." Yet in the same sentence he says, speaking of the compensations, positively mentioned in the Legislative resolution authorizing the agency at Washington, "it should not exceed 10 per cent." If I were Horace Greeley, and had a proverbial white hat and coat, I fear, in the face of such asinine stuff as this last quotation from the Tammany organ, I should indulge in some vigorous departures from the good old Anglo-Saxon. There is not a man between (as Congressman Whaley used to say in Congress) the "rockbound shores of the Atlantic and the golden sands of the Pacific," has brains enough to lubricate the point of his usual appendage, who can detect in the World's rhodomontade, that delicious, malicious malice born of bad blood and political rings and cliques.

A SUGGESTION

Now Messrs. Editors, as I am on journalism as a theme, and decency as a suggestion, let me make one more quotation from the said New York World, viz: "Having stipulated to pay over to the State Treasurer all collected, less his per cent., how comes it that out of $2,619,422.20, which is that amount, he pays but $708,710.77, or something over a fourth, into the State Treasury, and the rest into the Treasury of the United States?"

I will tilt the New York Tribune against the World. I spoke of the Tribune containing an extract from the Philadelphia North American, reflecting upon Mr. Evans. To-day's Tribune has however, a magnificent refutation of the North American's malice. It shows by the clearest possible statement of facts and figures that every word which has been presented against the honor or integrity of Mr. Evans, is as baseless as the fabric of a vision; and that he is supported, every inch of his course, by most explicit records.

I know there is an old saying:

"Where ignorance is bliss,
'Tis folly to be wise;"

but if honorable men pursue each other like the wild beasts of the forests, they must remember that in such a warfare there is "no respect of persons." Ignorance—utter, wicked ignorance, is the foundation of all this furore. Even the World, I doubt not, will do justice to Mr. Evans when it knows the facts, for that paper is understood to be witty, wise and broad.

What are the facts?

These:

Pennsylvania owed to the United States $1,910,000 for cash advanced to relieve the poverty of the State at the beginning of the war, and for the quota of direct tax levied prorata on all the States, Pennsylvania's share of which remained unpaid. This huge debt it was intended should be paid by these old claims—claims carefully arranged and defective in evidence, all suspended and disallowed by the Treasury Department of the United States, and completely cast out of the reckoning for over five years. Dead! Dead! It might well have been asked, "can these bones live?" By the breath of genius and brains and energy, the dead were brought to life, and assumed a responsible, tangible shape, which the United States might properly acknowledge and credit to the State for expenditures justly reimbursible in honesty and equity.

JUSTIFIED.

In the face of the assaults of the World and other unthinking journals upon Mr. Evans, in connection with this matter, it seems to me that reason and fairness unite to proclaim his entire innocence of any possible wrong. He is sustained in his course by the Governor of your glorious Keystone State; he is supported by the records and books at Washington; and when the storm shall have expended its fury, like the palm-tree, he will rise up and stand bold and brave and glad, for "thrice armed is he whose cause is just." One further quotation desire I to make; it is from the Government records at Washington City, viz:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
SECOND CONTROLLER'S OFFICE,
May 3, 1867.

In a special settlement of the accounts of the State of Pennsylvania, No. 3,333, made in this office in the month of April, 1867, the sum of $1,939,119.32, heretofore disallowed, has been allowed and credited to the State on explanations made and filed by G. O. Evans, Special Agent, &c.

J. N. BROADHEAD, Controller.

The third Auditor of the U. S. Treasury Department confirms this statement. Mr. Evans is already sustained. The political ring which is displaying its muscle by fighting Gov. Geary over the head and body and reputation of G. O. Evans, will find his friends springing up as numerously as were the foes of King James at the bugle call of that brave Highland Chief, Roderick Dhu.

GENERALITIES.

THE Hamilton county, Iowa, Fair, will be held at Webster City September 13th and 14th.

THERE is a cave in Effingham, N. H., in which a sufficient quantity of ice freezes in winter to suppy the wants of the neighboring farmers all summer.

A CONSIDERATE and superstitious burglar in New Orleans returned a wedding ring he had stolen, with an anonymous note explaining that "it would bring calamity if he took it away.

THE plague of grasshoppers has come upon several of the principal agricultural counties of Utah, and the deposit of eggs is causing much alarm among the gardeners for their crops the next season.

A LETTER from Edinburgh says: "Remembering what a failure the English attempt at a Shaksperian Ter-Centenary proved, we may admire the superior enthusiasm of the Scocthmen and their comparative success in doing honor to Scott."

A DROVE of three hundred buffalo, one day last week, while fleeing from an approaching train on the Kansas Pacific Road, ran wildly through the village of Fossil Creek. The inhabitants brought out their guns and pistols, and made it red hot for them.

"DIAGONALS" for men's suits are much in vogue this summer. The New York World says: a gentleman who got home a night or two since in an elevated condition tried to persuade his wife that his desultory gait was owing to the fact of his being dressed in diagonal clothes.

A LARGE piece of coal fell on a Virginia miner the other day, and crushing him to the ground, forced the stem of his pipe through the roof of his mouth and out the top of his head. This is the story told by a Virginia paper, and it adds that the the man is still alive and is not considered mortally wounded.

IN driving a London underground railroad tunnel, we are told that in one part of the line the cuttings were made through a mass of skulls and bones sixteen feet in the ground. In another place a forgotten secret passage, twenty feet wide, was discovered, supposed to date from the fourteenth century.

AN early death has befallen the members of a California ring. A "reliable gentleman" tells its brief story—how he picked up two dead water snakes which had partially swallowed each other. Each snake had commenced swallowing the other's tail, and they continued the operation until their heads met.

A ST. PAUL carman, who recently lost one of his horses, of which he was very fond, has been made insane by the chaffing of his acquaintances, who told him he had killed the animal by over-driving him. He is continually dreading that he is to be hanged for murdering his horse, and it has been found necessary to place him in the jail.

SOME burglars, even more infamous than the usual run of such villains, broke into the St. John's Episcopal Free Chapel in Savannah, Ga., a few nights ago, and stole the Sunday school library of one hundred and fifty volumes, and all the books belonging to the chancel, including a large Bible, four prayer books and two altar service books.

A PHILADELPHIA man who rode out to the park with his wife and little ones in a light business wagon, for want of a more stylish equipage, was turned back at the entrance by a policeman, the latter's strict construction of the rule that "no vehicle of burden or traffic shall pass through the Park," spoiled the poor man's half holiday and filled his breast with wrath.

THE destructive force of a grasshopper visitation is indicated in a note from a settler in Dakota, who writes from Fort Berthold, July 26: "Eve ything was growing finely on the far until this morning, when, at about 11 o'clock, the grasshoppers arrived, and have very nearly cleaned us out. Our garde s are entirely ruined. From the oats ve may save enough straw for the hor s, but everything in the gardens and n the fields of the Indians is totally consu ed. The whole work of the season was d es troyed in less than eight hours, over a country of three hundred acres."

ATTEND TO YOUR FEET—CORNS.

One of the most wonderful preparations which has come into use recently is ROBINSON'S CORN PENCIL, which removes from the feet these troublesome exerescences, and that, too, without any pain. Robinson's Corn Solvent dissolves and disintegrates the corn entirely, leaving the feet as smooth and healthy as if the corn had never been there.

It not only removes corns, but warts and bunions, and indurations of any kind are freely removed. Let any one whose feet are troubled with these pests try it at once, and every particle of indurated matter can be removed from the feet. They are sold at 50 cents each, or by the dozen, at KEYSER'S, 167 Liberty street. Sent by mail for 60 cents.

WILTED DOWN.

Ask the man who complains of "wilting down" in torrid weather what he has done to sustain his system under the extra strain imposed on his vitality. He may tell you that he has tried a variety of cathartics to purify his blood and brighten his spirits. Under such treatment, of course, his strength has given way, and his energies have become exhausted. What he requires is a restorative, not a depletant. His blood is thin; his nerves have lost their natural tension, and nature demands to be renovated and reinforced. The means is within the reach of all. For nearly a score of years, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has been building up broken constitutions, bracing and strengthening attenuated frames, and affording comfort, ease, and hope to thousands. As a preventive of the epidemics which make such havoc with the health of the inhabitants of new settlements this famous tonic is certainly without a rival. Perhaps the principle portion of its world wide fame is attributable to its astonishing cures of dyspepsia, and all forms of indigestion. But these are not a moiety of its triumphs. All the types of biliousness yield to its persistent use. It is a regulating medicine of the highest order; and its effect upon the secretions, when irregular, is most salutary.

Imposition of the grossest character is sought to be practiced upon the community by vendors, who recommend under the name of "bitters," fiery compounds of a dangerous character, which they attempt to substitute for the great national tonic. Shun all such nostrums, and see that you have the genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, properly authenticated by label, name and stamp, and sold in bottles only.

Finance and Trade.

NEW YORK, August 26, 1871.

Gold has been very dull and quiet all day, there being no change in price—112⅝—until after the close of the regular hours, when a few sales were made at 112⅝. Clearances of the day, $27,000,000. Governments closed quiet and steady. The American Syndicate to-day subscribed over four million dollars to the new loan. Money has been more abundant and easy than for a long time, some loans being made as low as 1½ on call and 3½ for 60 days.

The bank statement is favorable. The banks have made a net gain of $343,345 in their legal reserve. They now hold $10,484,595 above the twenty-five per cent. required by law. Legal tenders have run down $609,000, while the specie, owing to the Treasury disbursements, has gained $1,313,245. The total reserve has gained $704,245 against an increase in the total liabilities of $1,403,598. The banks are now holding legal tenders and three per cent. certificates of $353,345 more than last week.

The stock market at the close was generally quiet and steady. Panama was an exception to the general firmness of the market, and declined from 75 to 72½.

Sterling exchange 109⅝.

—The influence of United States securities upon the European money markets is thus incidentally described by the London Times:

"At the same time, there is another element of a completely modern nature, which increases the difficulty of estimating the casual or surface currents of the money market. This consists in the enormous transactions that are daily effected in the shape of advances or borrowings on United States bonds. A fractional alteration in the rate of interest at Frankfort or Berlin or Amsterdam gives rise at any moment to exchange or banking negotiations involving temporary totals of the largest kind. Probably the amount of these bonds in Europe approaches 200 millions sterling, which now, more or less, acts as a floating and most sensitive medium to influence all international operations. Hence, when in former years a moderate change during even two or three continuous weeks in the aspect of the bank accounts would have possessed a distinct significance, perturbations of this kind now demand little notice unless they be accompanied by symptoms of an unsound tendency in the general course of our commercial or financial affairs. At present there is nothing of the sort.

—The "corner in wheat" for delivery the last half of this month was the most prominent feature in local business affairs to-day. It seems probable now, that the ring may run their corner to a successful settlement with the "shorts" by the end of the month unless the receipts of grain increase largely within the next two or three days. The rise in both Liverpool and New York is to a great extent the result of the speculative rise here, and the rise here has been made possible solely by the small receipts. If the producers of grain throughout the whole grain-raising sections of the country had organized a plan to keep up the price of grain they could not have conceived of any one so effectual at that which has been adopted by common consent during the last month, viz.: that of just feeding the market with enough to keep the price of cash wheat from 5 to 10 cents higher than for the next month.—Chicago Tribune, 25 th.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, August 26, 1871.

ASHES—Common Soda ash, 4@4¼; refined 4¼@4½; Pearls, 9; Pots, 7½; Nitrate Soda, 4½.

BUTTER—We can report a continued steady demand for the better grades with sales at 18@20 for prime to choice.

BROOM CORN—Is quiet and unchanged, 5@7 cts per lb, as to quality.

BEESWAX—Quoted at 33@35c.

CEMENT—Louisville, $2,50@3,00 per bbl. Rosendale, $4,00@4,50; Calcined Plaster, $4,25@4,50.

CORN MEAL—The demand continues light and almost wholly of a retail character, and we continue to quote at 80@85 per bushel.

COUNTRY BACON—We note an occasional small arrival, but the supply, although not large, is still in excess of the demand. Country Lard, 8@8½.

CARBON OIL—There is a fair jobbing trade at 22½@23 cts for standard brands—usual advance in small lots.

CHEESE—Is steady with a fair business, but unchanged; prime Ohio Goshen, 10@10½; Factory, 9@9¼; Dairy, 8@8½.

EGGS—There is an improved demand for fresh, and the supply is very much reduced; may be fairly quoted at 12@13. While it is probable that there will be an advance within the next day or two, dealers generally do not expect any material improvement in prices until after the hot weather is over.

FRUITS—There is a continued good demand for apples, and with diminshed receipts, the market is firm and prices higher; we now advance our quotations to $2@3 per bbl for fair to choice. Peaches, also firm and tending upward, in consequence of diminished receipts; we now quote at $1,50@2,50 per box. Plums steady with sales of Damson's at $3,50@4—some of the commission men quote up to $4,50 per bushel or $9 per stand. Grapes unchanged, at 6@8 cts.

FLOUR—Is firmer and should be higher, but the competition among dealers in this market is so strong that one is afraid to advance the price being apprehensive that he may be undersold by another. Some houses allege that they are getting $7 for choice Minnesota baker's flour, while others don't believe it, and the result is that this grade of flour is being sold at just about what it would cost to lay it down here from the west. However, if dealers can stand it, consumers have no reason to complain. Good spring extras may be quoted at $6,50 and good to choice red winter wheat, at $6.50@6,75.

GRAIN—There is a steady milling demand for Wheat, and, with continued light receipts, the market is firm and prices higher; sales on 'change of 50 sks old red at $1,28; 50 do new red at $1,26; 28 sks prime amber at $1,30, and 22 sks fair white at $1,30. Oats firmer, but the operations are light, as buyers and sellers are unable to get together—the latter are asking an advance, to which, as yet, the former are unwilling to accede; quotations may be fairly given at 39@41 buying, and 43@45 selling, that is, for mixed to prime white. The receipts continue liberal, and the stock is increasing, but holders generally, as already noted, seem to have resolved on better prices. Shelled Corn is dull, though the offerings are not large; may be quoted at 61@62 for mixed and 63@64 for prime yellow. There is a fair consumptive demand for ear corn, with several sales during the week at 65@66. Rye is firmer and in demand—would sell readily at 75. There is but little doing in Barley—considerable offering, but brewers are still holding off: No. 1 Spring, in the absence of sales, may be fairly quoted at 85.

GROCERIES—The grocery business is fair, though nothing to brag of; some houses report that trade is scarcely as good as it was a few weeks ago. However, there is every prospect of a good fall trade.

COFFEE—Fancy Rio, 23; Prime, 19; Good, 18; Fair, 17; Roasting, 16@16½.

SYRUPS AND DRIPS—White Honey, 70; Havemyer & Elders, 70; Silver Drips, 60; other grades, 45@55.

SUGARS—Choice New Orleans, 11¼; prime, 11 good, 10¾; fully fair, 10¾; Porto Rico Sugars, 10@11; Cuba, 10@11; Demarara, 11@12.

REFINED SUGARS—Hard Sugars, 14; A Coffee, 13; "B," 12¾; Extra C, 12¾; C. yellow, 12⅜.

MOLASSES—New Orleans, choice, 70; prime, 68; good, 65.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 10; prime, 9½ cts; good, 9c.

SPICES—Grain Pepper, 22c. Pimento, 17c. Cloves, 30c. Cassia, 55c.

HONEY—We can report sales in a regular way at 25@30 cts per lb, for fair to choice.

HIDES—Green Salted, 10½@11½; Green Butcher's, 8; Dry Flint, 21@22; Green Calf Skins, 14@15; Green Salted Calf, 17@18.

HUSKS—Quoted at 2½@2¾ cts.

HAY—Baled is quiet and unchanged, $20@25 per ton, by the car load.

HEMP—Quoted at $165 per ton.

LIME—Perrysburg white, $2,00@2,25 per bbl; Cleveland $2,25; Eastern, $1,75.

MILL FEED—Is steady with a fair jobbing trade at $21@22 for Bran; $23@25 for Seconds; $33@35 for Middlings, and $43@45 for Oil Meal.

ONIONS—The receipts are again increasing but, with a steady demand, prices are still maintained, $3,50@4,00 per bbl.

OIL—No. 1 Lard Oil, (Pittsburgh make) 70@72 to the trade, and 75 in a small way. No. 2 quoted at 58@60.

PEA NUTS—Quoted at 11 cts.

POULTRY—Young Chickens quoted at 50@60 cts per pair and old ones at 70@75.

RAGS—Sales, 4@4¼ cts per lb.

SEEDS—Timothy Seed is quotable, for small lots, at $3,50 per bushel. Nothing doing in Clover Seed. Flaxseed unchanged at $1,80.

SUMAC—Sales Tennessee Sumac at 4⅛ cts.

WILLOWS—Quoted firm at 10 cts.

WATER MELONS—We can report sales all the way from $15 to $25 per hundred, according to size and quality.

PITTSBURGH CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, August 26, 1871.

RECEIPTS STOCK.

The receipts of stock at the Central Yards for the week ending to-day, were as follows:

Cattle	444	cars
Hogs	180	"
Sheep	92	"
Horses	21	"
Mules	2	"
Total	739

CATTLE.

The receipts were again large, footing up 444 cars against 442 last week; however, with an improved demand, the market was more active and firmer, notwithstanding the large arrivals, and prices, as compared with last week, particularly for the best grades, ruled higher. The most of the Philadelphia buyers took hold pretty freely, they having had a better market at home this week, and but for this, the probability is that trade would have been no better, if as good, as last week; as it was, the improvement in prices was slight, not exceeding ¼@½ of a cent per pound. The average quality of the offerings was about the same as last week, consisting mainly of mixed stock, and included in which were some from nearly all the western States, as well as Kentucky and Texas; the receipts from Kentucky seem to have been rather larger than usual during the past week or two.

Good to prime shipping steers, averaging 1,300 to 1,400 lbs, sold at from 5,25 to 5,75—one load of fancy brought 6 cts, but this is an outside price, and can only be obtained for something of a fancy character. The great proportion of the sales were made in the early part of the week, and it may be well enough to add that a large number of the 444 cars received were through cattle, and, consequently, were not offered for sale in this market.

SHEEP.

The receipts were only fair counting up 22 cars against 98 cars last week; for the best grades there has been a steady demand throughout the week, and all that offered of this kind were sold readily and that, too, at an advance of from ¼ to ½ of a cent per pound; it is alleged by some of the eastern men that prices have been entirely too much inflated here for the eastern markets, and that, in consequence, the margins on the most of the purchases this week will, in all probability, be very small. Good 80@85 lb fine wool sheep, 4¾@5; 90@95 lbs, 5@5¼; 100@110 lbs. 5½@5¾. Two droves of fancy Ohio weathers, brought fancy prices; one lot averaging 100 lbs, sold at 5,65; and the other averaging 105 lbs, brought 5,90. Scalawags may be quoted at $1,50@2,50 per head. HOGS.

Receipts for week 180 cars against 100 last week; with increased receipts, and a diminished demand, together unfavorable advices from the east, caused by the rain and hot weather combined, the market has been and continues weak, and prices as compared with last week have dropped from ¼ to ½ of a cent per pound. To-day quotations may be fairly given at 4,62@4,75 for Yorkers and 5 cts for prime Philadelphia hogs—Chicago tops were offered at this figure to-day. The feeling in regard to coming week is conflicting; some dealers are inclined to think that the bottom has been touched while others predict a still further decline.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY August 26, 1871.

The oil business has been very quiet during the week which has just closed, though a stronger feeling has been developed and there has been an increased demand, particularly for refined, but, so far as we could learn, there were but few sales effected; compared with last week, prices, for both crude and refined, are a shade higher. The improvement in the demand for refined is attributed in part to the fact that there is less difficulty in securing tonnage at the seaboard, as, in consequence, the exporters are more disposed to operate, and it was, of course, the increased demand that brought about the advance in prices, to which reference has been made. Our refiners, generally, are reported in good condition; the great bulk of the oil delivered within the past month or two has yielded them a very fair margin, having been sold early in the season at much better prices than have prevailed since, and the great majority of them have their production sold for this month and September.

The shipments of refined eastward have fallen off very materially this week, which is owing to the scarcity of cars; there has been an unusually heavy run of live stock during the past two weeks, and as the Railroad Company did not have sufficient rolling stock to meet the emergency, the consequence was that the live stock got the preference. It is probable, however, that the rush of live stock is about over, and that hereafter the oil trade will be furnished with all the cars they require—at least it is hoped so, as it is important that the refiners get all their August oil in Philadelphia on or before, the close of the month.

Receipts crude this week, 25,9 8; last week, 27,977; January 1st to date, 741,643, same time last year, 714,114. Exports refined this week, 9,026; last week, 22,337; January 1st to date, 448,127; same time last year, 457,326; sales this week, 2,000 bbls crude, 2,000 refined; last week, 11,000 bbls crude; 1,000 bbls refined.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was rising last evening with scant four feet in the channel. The rise thus far has been in the Monongahela, but, judging from the heavy rains here during the past two days, there will, in all probability, be a rise in the Allegheny also; altogether on Saturday there were only 10 inches in the channel at Oil City. The weather continues cloudy and warm, with every appearance of more rain.

The details of the drowning of John Dunlavy, the well-known steamboat baker, will be found in our local columns.

—The St. Louis Republican, of Saturday, says: A large crowd had congregated at an early hour on the Keokuk wharf-boat waiting for the arrival of the Andy Johnson. She came in about 15 minutes to 1 o'clock, amidst cheers and waving of handkerchiefs by the waiting spectators. She landed at the foot of Cherry street, when she was boarded by an immense crowd, who were anxious to know her time. Some said four days and others six days, but no one could give the exact time. She left New Orleans Saturday night at 7½ o'clock. She made the run in 5 days 18 hours, being detained 8 hours, 4 hours in a fog and 4 hours in fixing plummer block, which she broke in running over a bar. In endeavoring to pass the Dexter at the mouth of Red river, the Dexter landed to avoid being passed. She arrived here one hour and a half ahead of the Capital City, passing her at Kennett's castle. The latter boat left two hours ahead of her at Cairo.

—The record of English patents shows one designed to prevent explosions of steam boilers, which at this time, when public attention is called to that subject by the Westfield horror, may be worth notice. This improved means of preventing explosions consists in providing a hole in the upper part of the boiler, and covering the same with a material (India rubber for example) of sufficient strength to withstand ordinary pressures, but which will give way, and allow of the escape of steam under excessive pressure. The India rubber is clamped to the boiler by a flanged tube formed for the purpose.

—A St. Louis paper, of Wednesday, says: Quite an excitement was witnessed on 'change yesterday, caused by several of our steamboat capitalists discussing on the speed of several boats, which ended in Captain J. T. Burdeau, agent of the barge line at New Orleans, betting Captain F. Yore $20, open for $100, that the Andy Johnson would arrive at this port ahead of the City of Alton and Dexter. It will be remembered that the above three steamers left New Orleans on the same day. They may be expected here about the latter part of this week.

—The upper Cumberland fleet are putting in the time well during the low water season. The Eddyville and Umpire are doing a big business on the Ohio. The Ella Hughes is chartered at $1,050 a month to run between Evansville and Owensboro, and the Tobe Hurt has been chartered at $600 per month. The Burksville is still navigating between Cairo and Clarksville, but will soon run in the Louisville and Cairo trade.

—A lady named Bemis was robbed on the Obeono, on Thursday night, of $100. She had carelessly hung her dress near an open transom in her state-room, and some one, as is supposed, watching his chance for a "haul," slipped his arm over during the night, and putting his fingers into the pocket, found and appropriated the money. Another lady occupied the room with her, and her clothing was undisturbed. This lady had insisted on leaving the state-room door unlocked.

—The Louisville Ledger, says: In view of the fact that Louisville and New Orleans should have a regular line of packets during the coming season, it is quite probable that the Virginia, Captain Shultz; Indiana, Captain Neal; Mary Houston, Captain Dunham; Katie King, Captain Hicks King, may place their splendid boats in the trade, and give us a weekly line. There is no question but that it would be well sustained.

—The St. Louis Republican, of Wednesday says: The towboat Robb and the barge Rowen, were sold by the United States marshal yesterday, to satisfy a debt in favor of George Fredericks, for $2,400. The boat brought $1,360, and the barge $60. Mr. Feitchman, formerly engineer of the Robb, was the purchaser.

—The St. Louis Democrat says: We spoke yesterday of a probable sale of one-half of the steamer Mollie Moore to Captain A. H. Shaw. Captain Moore and Mr. S. L. Fisher say our information was entirely erroneous, and we make the correction with pleasure.

—The snagboat Octavia tried the other day to raise the shaft of Admiral Porter's old flagship Black Hawk, sunk below Cairo, but without success. It is said to be a serious obstruction to navigation, especially to tows, and should be removed.

—Captain Massie has disposed of his interest in the steamer Ida Stockdale to Messrs. Hazlett & Seaman. A new captain will now be assigned to that boat.

—The E. H. Durfee will go in the packet trade to run to Keokuk or Waverly.

—The Natchez came off the docks at New Orleans Tuesday.

—The Mollie Ebert is loading at Cairo for New Orleans.

—The Clara Scott is on the docks at Middleport.

HOME NEWS.

Reward—Fifty dollars will be paid for the recovery of the body of John Dunlevy, drowned at the Monongahela wharf, Saturday evening, August [illegible]

DUNLEVY & BRO.,
No. 4 Diamond.

[illegible] Broken.—James Healey, a lad aged about fourteen years, son of Martin Healey, [illegible] Brewery street, "Pipetown," fell through the tressel work at Lloyd & Black's mills, Saturday afternoon, breaking both bones of his left arm, near the wrist, and receiving severe injuries on the head and body. Dr. Donnelly attended the injured lad.

Divorce Applied for.—Saturday morning Caroline Castlow presented a petition in the Court of Common Pleas for a divorce from her husband, Peter Castlow, to whom she says she was married in October, 1847, and with whom she lived until July 5, 1871, when Peter suddenly disappeared and has never since shown himself in the family circle. For this cause Caroline desires a separation. The Court granted a writ to summon Peter to answer at the next term.

Cutting Affray.—Last evening about seven o'clock two colored men named George Morris and John Lewis, met at the corner of Wylie and Logan streets, when they proceeded to fight out an old grudge. During the affray Lewis drew from his pocket a razor, with which he cut his antagonist several times on the arms, and across the breast and abdomen, inflicting dangerous wounds. The would-be murderer, immediately after the perpetration of the fiendish deed, ran away, escaping arrest.

Attempted Burglary.—Yesterday morning between the hours of two and three an attempt was made by burglars to enter the jewelry store of Joseph Koenig, No. 579 Penn avenue, by means of a "jimmy," with which they tried to force the front door open. Mr. Koenig, who was sleeping in an upper room, was aroused by the noise made by the thieves. Getting up from his bed he quietly raised a window and fired a couple of shots from a revolver, which had the effect of driving the villains away.

Adjourned Sale of Very Fine Household Furniture, Piano, Store Fixtures, Lease, Cigars, &c., &c.—This very attractive sale will be resumed, according to adjournment, on Wednesday, August 30th, at 10 A. M., and should command the attention of housekeepers and others. The sale is positive; every article will be sold regardless of value, in order to close up the business. Remember No. 45 Ninth (late Hand) street, on Wednesday morning next. For further particulars enquire on the premises or of N. Whiting & Co., Auctioneers.

Increase of Tolls.

The managers of the Birmingham and Elizabeth Turnpike Company presented a petition in the Court of Common Pleas, Saturday morning asking for the privilege to increase the rates of their tolls fifty per cent. They state that for the past fifteen years the road has paid nothing to the stockholders, and that they have no sinking fund from which to reimburse themselves for their outlay, hence their petition. The matter will be decided next Saturday.

Femme Sole Trader.

Catherine Kirschenlaub, has became disgusted with the conduct of her consort William Krischenlaub, whom she alleges has been dissolute for the past two years, and instead of being a support, has been supported by her, to relieve herself of the burden, she appealed to the Court and on Saturday morning presented a petition asking that she be declared Femme Sole trader according to the laws provided for such cases. The application was heard and a rule granted returnable on the 9th of September—William to be notified.

Recruits for the Workhouse.

The Sunday morning exercises at the Mayor's office produced eight recruits for the workhouse, six men and two women. The females are Eliza Kershaw and Beatrice McGuire, both vagrants. The former goes for four months, and the latter for ninety days. Rachael Ann Snyder, wife of "Tony" Snyder, was forwarded to the workhouse on Saturday, for sixty days. Tony, the husband, was sent to Claremont about ten days ago, for a term of four months. This is the youthful pair whose marriage some months ago occasioned considerable newspaper talk.

An Ugly Blow.

Con. Connor, who resides in Allegheny, is addicted to a bad habit—that of getting "boggy" occasionally. On Saturday night, having imbibed too large a number of potations, he was in a greatly elevated condition, and being so, was arrested by Officer Lindsey. On the way to the lock-up, he made no demonstrations, but was, on the contrary, very peaceable until almost there, when he suddenly stooped and picked up a stone with which he struck the officer a hard blow, planting it fairly upon his nose. The officer, however, held on to his man and safely lodged him in the watch-house.

Turned Over.

It will be remembered by our readers that a few weeks ago negotiations were closed between Mr. John B. Scully, Sequestrator of the Monongahela Turnpike Company's Road, and the city, for the purchase of that part of the road lying within the city limits, for $5,000. The arrangements for the sale having thus been consummated the matter was prepared in legal form and a petition presented to the Court of Common Pleas, Saturday, by Mr. Scully, asking for a special order, authorizing him to find the sale. This was in accordance with the Act of Assembly under which the road was sold. The order was issued at once and the road may now be considered in the possession of the city.

Public Confidence.

Says our neighbor, the Post: "The highest praise should be awarded to those who contribute to promote public confidence. This the Great Dry Goods House of McKee, Murphy & Co., 59 Market street, is doing by conducting their business on the one price principle, and never misrepresenting their goods either in advertisements or otherwise. Therefore we take pleasure in directing the attention of our readers to this house." And we will add: This house keeps an immense stock, equal to several ordinary stores, and the prices are always the lowest in the market. In fact to our certain knowledge, they are now retailing goods at wholesale prices, preferring to keep business active in this way during the usual dull season than to spend the time in idleness.

Drowned While Bathing.

John Dunlevy, of the firm of Conway & Co., Steamboat Bakery, on Market street, was drowned Saturday night, about eleven o'clock, while bathing in the Monongahela river, opposite the foot of Market street. The deceased, it appears, went into the water in company with A. Wise, a shoedealer, at the corner of First and Market street. They started from the steamboat Lorena, and swam out nearly to the middle of the stream. Dunlevy going a considerable distance further than his companion, who returned safely to a flat-boat lying at the wharf. After Wise had landed he perceived Mr. Dunlevy struggling in the water in a manner that convinced him his companions had either met with an accident or was too much exhausted to swim. He at once procured a rope, and endeavored to throw one end of it within reach of the drowning man, but before he could accomplish his purpose Dunlevy had sunk to rise no more.

A number of the friends of deceased, as soon as they received tidings of the sad event, procured grappling irons and dragged the river in search of the body. They also fired cannon and continued to drag the river until a late hour last night, but their efforts had, up till ten o'clock, proved fruitless.

The deceased was about thirty-seven years of age, and was the son of Mr. Jeremiah Dunlevy, an old and well known citizen, and a brother-in-law of Hon. James P. Barr, of the Post.

Young Scoundrels.

Some months since, Mr. F. W. Jenkins, of the firm of T. C. Jenkins & Co., and his family paid a visit to Minnesota, closing their house, intending it to remain so during their absence. Mr. Jenkins' residence is at No. 57 Beaver avenue. Yesterday morning Mr. J. returned alone, in order to open the house and make preparation, for the reception of the family, whom he expected to follow him in a few days. He was surprised on opening the door of his house, about ten o'clock yesterday morning, to hear some noise in the back part of it, and hurrying back, he was just able to catch a final glimpse of two boys retiring in a hasty manner through a back window, which they had managed to force open. He was too late in getting out of the house to attempt to chase the young rogues and hence they made their escape. In looking through the house, Mr. Jenkins found everything in a condition of wondrous and dire confusion, drawers had been rummaged, closets forced open, trunks broken into and innumerable articles were out of place and out of keeping with the condition in which they had been left. At this writing, Mr. Jenkins is in uncertainty as to whether or not any articles are missing from his household goods or domestic chattels. He informed Chief Clark of the occurrence, and yesterday afternoon two brothers named Hammill, one aged ten and the other fifteen years, were arrested on suspicion. Mr. J. was not able to identify either of them.

Things Afloat.

The McKee four gave an exhibition trial on the Allegheny river Saturday afternoon, preparatory to starting for the Saratoga races. The crew rowed from the Hand street to the St. Clair street bridge in forty-five seconds, pulling at about thirty-eight strokes to the minute.

A corpulent crew of Allegheny, have issued the following challenge:

We the undersigned, the Fat Men's crew, do hereby challenge any four of our weight in the country to row a six-mile race, over the Allegheny river course, for five hundred or two thousand dollars a side, the race to take place within one month from signing articles. Articles of agreement may be signed and preliminaries arranged at John Gorden's, Chestnut street house, Allegheny city. We are prepared to defend the title of champions of heavy weights against anything that dare meet us.

John Snyder, of the Beck boat club, challenges A. Wenstein to row a three mile race on the upper Monongahela course, for a purse of $100 or more. Man and money at G. Wheeler's, Wednesday evening next, at 8 o'clock.

Good Idea.

Keep actively employed during the heated term, even if you don't make any money by it. This is the motto of the great dry goods house of McKee, Murphy & Co., 59 Market street, and they are giving the practical illustration of how to do it by getting a big stock of new goods and selling them at way down prices.

A man named James Richey was found in a beastly state of intoxication in a board-yard about seven o'clock Saturday evening, by officer Magee. THE CUMBERLAND VISITORS.

What They Think of Pittsburgh—Notes of Their Trip.

A correspondent of the Cumberland Daily News, who made one of the excursion party in our city a few days ago had a few pleasant words to say of Pittsburgh, among which were the following in a letter dated Aug. 23d.

"This morning, after a good, sound night's sleep, we awoke slowly to the consciousness that we were in strange quarters. Collecting our scattered wits we remembered where we were. Dressing and reporting to the office we learned that some two or three of our party had left on the morning train for home. After breakfast our party again dissolved. Some went to the glass-works, some to the iron-works, some to the foundries, some to the machine shops, some to the breweries (!), some to the penitentiary (!!), some here and some there, just when and where they chose. During the afternoon the party did as they pleased again, strolling around the city, making purchases, examining stock, pricing goods, &c. This evening, as on last evening, the several places of amusement were visited by delegations of our party. Pittsburgh's amusements, I must say, are far from first-class, and nothing like what the city should have. Nevertheless, they are a long ways ahead of anything we shall have until the "Assembly Rooms" are completed.

There is a universal expression of pleasure amongst the members of our party over the lively, active, stirring, bustling business air which pervades everything here. Pittsburgh is a great city—a perfect "hive of industry," and visitors here for the first time are amazed at the vastness of the city's resources. One could spend days, or even weeks here, in inspection of Pittsburgh's manufactories, and would then not be through. Our Cumberlanders have been instructed and gratified, and they will carry back with them, and I hope infuse into their business, an idea of the business which seems to inspire the people here. We thus hope the visit will be productive of much good.

To-morrow morning at 6:10 we start on the return, and should reach home about 2 o'clock. We hope to chronicle a safe return for all hands from an unusually pleasant visit."

The Best Evidence.

The best evidence that any one can want that the Wilson Sewing Machine is now the best in the market is just to inquire of those who have them in use, how they like them and what they think. Should you not know of any person having one of these machines all you need to do is to call at the office, No. 14 Sixth (late St. Clair) street, and the agents will tell you where they can be found. Now, as a Sewing Machine is not like, any other piece of household furniture—that can be sold or exchanged at pleasure, it is necessary that you should use judgment in its purchase—we therefore ask you to call on Messrs. Smith & Forrester, at their salesroom, and examine the Wilson, and see it sewing all the different kinds of work—and you will be convinced that it will do all that is claimed for it. The Wilson is sold for the low price of $45, and is warranted for five years. It is also sold on the lease plan—that is, monthly payments—thus enabling all to purchase who want a machine. You can also, if you wish, have one sent to your house on trial, and need not purchase, unless you are perfectly satisfied with it. Remember the place—No. 14 Sixth street.

Get a Weed Sewing Machine, and you have the very best with all the latest improvements. MWF

CHURCH ENTERPRISE.

Smithfield Street M. E. Church—A Change in the Appearance of Things—"Reopening Day" Services.

About two months ago the Smithfield street M. E. Church, Rev. A. B. Leonard, pastor, a time-honored stronghold of Methodism, was closed for renovation and repairs, of which the building stood much in need. The work was commenced immediately, and with energy the painters and upholsterers have since been at work upon the interior and exterior of the edifice, until now the former dimmed and faded appearance of the house has given place to one that is bright, clean, cheerful, and in every way attractive. This change was brought about by a repainting in white of the exterior, and interiorly by regraining, refrescoing, new carpeting, &c., at a total cost of about $3,000. The change is an agreeable one in every respect, and is a credit to the spirit of the members of the congregation, as it is a pleasure to the casual visitor.

The work was completed toward the close of last week and yesterday the public reopening services were held. It was a great day, not only for those who are directly connected with the church but to many visitors, from other sections who recognized "old Smithfield" as the first spiritual home and to whom it is always a place around which cluster the happiest of memories.

There were large congregations at every service the capacity of the house seeming to be the only limit of the congregations.

The morning service at half-past ten o'clock was conducted by the Rev. Wm. Cox, D.D., at present of Alliance, Ohio, but a former pastor of the church. In the afternoon at three o'clock, there was a "reunion" of old pastors and people of the charge, who were instructed from the pulpit by the Rev. Dr. W. A. Davidson, of East Liberty, also a former pastor. There were present at this service a large number of the ministers of the city, among whom were the Rev. J. R. Mills, Rev. C. W. Smith, Rev. M. J. Montgomery, Rev. Dr. Joseph Horner, and others, who occupied seats in the pulpit—some of them assisting in the service.

In the evening Rev. Hiram Miller, D. D., of Monongahela City, formerly a pastor, preached to a large audience, which closed the religious exercises. An additional feature of the day was the excellent music from the choir, which always good, seemed to be peculiarly excellent yesterday.

The reopening occasion throughout was one of much happiness to those who participated, and one which will hereafter be remembered with every feeling of pleasure by all who were in attendance.

SUNDAY IN LIMERICK.

Whisky Shops Open—Serious Affray—Man Nearly Beaten to Death.

In the well-known Southside group of hovels, doggeries, "gin mills" and pig pens, aptly denominated "Limerick," whisky flowed freely yesterday, and many disturbances occurred. Among the places where the fighting beverage was freely dispensed, and where the dark waves of deep damnation rolled promiscuously, was the den of Mrs. Harvey. Here a party consisting of James Hays, Bartley Connelly and several others were drinking about twelve o'clock yesterday, when the two men we have named got into an altercation. In the fight that ensued Connelly used a pair of steel knucklers on the head of Hays, inflicting a number of severe wounds. Others of the party also struck Hays with drinking glasses. The man was so seriously hurt that it was found necessary to summon a physician, and Dr. Donnelly was called in to dress the wounds. He pronounces Hays to be in a dangerous condition. Connelly is a helper at Painter's mills. After nearly killing Hays, who is a young man and greatly the inferior of his assailant in point of strength, Connelly took another drink and deliberately walked away. It is expected that a charge of felonious assault and battery will be made against several of the party by Hays, should he be so fortunate as to recover from the effects of his injuries. It is expected of the authorities over there that they will not only make an effort to arrest and punish the ruffians, but that they will also take measures to rid their community of those bad places, the whisky shops that are kept open on Sundays.

The Water Commission.

EDITORS GAZETTE.—I observed in yesterday's Commercial an article signed "Caution," in which the impression is artfully conveyed that those members of Councils whose names have been mentioned in connection with the Water Commission are conspiring together to have themselves elected to the exclusion of citizens not members of Councils. This does gross injustice to the individuals whose names have been brought forward. A single statement will suffice to show the incorrectness, not to say the utter absurdity of this view. The Board will be composed of five members, and there are at least ten candidates put forward by their friends. "Caution" smells jobbery and all manner of corruption in the election of members of Councils. The debates in Councils upon this question, he argues, "have been so prominent as to serve to give color to the suspicion of some people, that the whole thing is but a job." The writer arrives at this sage conclusion by the following mode of reasoning: "Why," he asks, "should the offices be sought after unless it is because it is expected that they will pay, and pay largely—if not in salaries, at least in some more profitable way?" It would be sheer waste of time to enumerate for "Caution's" benefit the number of offices of honor and trust to which no emoluments are attached, and which are yet sought after, directly and indirectly, by men whose reputations are irreproachable. To such as view the world through "Caution's" spectacles, all things must wear a smirched appearance.

"Caution" has been looking abroad. He cites the condition of affairs in Brooklyn, which he informs us "is just now in the death grasp of a Water Commission." The instance is an unfortunate one for "Caution's" theory of protection from jobbery and corruption. He does not seem to be aware of the fact that the Water Commission of Brooklyn is composed of citizens not members of Councils, and salaried officials at that. Does "Caution" desire to imitate other cities in this matter? Then let him cite some other instance than that afforded by Brooklyn.

Judging from certain ear marks, "Caution" is one of a class who rely much on outside information, outside experience and ability. He trains with a small minority. The majority, who have pondered over the process by which outside skill, purchased at an enormous expense, instead of earnestly and vigorously prosecuting the work allotted to it, quietly and lazily made up bulky reports composed of a mass of verbiage, with not even the glimmer of a new idea to redeem it from the contempt which ever attends detected plagiarism—the majority of our citizens who have seen how leniently Councils have dealt with the outside skill, which was chiefly displayed in filching statistics and plans from old reports, have reason to look with suspicion upon the class of advisers represented by "Caution."

The insinuation that the members of councils whose names have been brought forward have solicited places on the new Board is not warranted by the facts. Col. Phillips, Mr. John Chislett, Mr. Carroll, Mr. Wainwright, President Oliver, Mr. Laufmam and Mr. Beymer have not solicited the office. Four of the above named gentlemen have been absent from the city the greater portion of the time since the question of a choice came up. Their names were suggested by their friends in every instance. But even were this not the fact, such names can not be smirched or stained in the slightest degree by anything 'Caution' can say or write. In this connection it may not be amiss to explain that the names suggested are fairly divided as far as the matter of representation is concerned. Mr. Beymer represents the Fourteenth, Mr. Chislett the Seventeenth, Mr. Laufman (who resides near the proposed works) the Nineteenth, Mr. Wainwright the Fifteenth, and the others the old city wards. I risk nothing in asserting that the mass of our citizens will willingly entrust the affairs of the commission in such able and responsible hands. Yours, etc.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—This place of amusement was re opened Saturday evening, and a fine audience greeted Chanfrau, the star, and the new stock company. "Sam," that excellent comedy, with Chanfrau in the title role, was presented. Mr. Ellsler, as General Roselyn, Gotthold as Billy Crockett, and Georgia Dickson as Euphemia, were happy in the rendition of their respective parts, while the other members of the company, who appeared in the minor characters of the play, made quite a favorable impression on the audience. We think Manager Ellsler has succeeded in bringing to his place of amusement a much better company than that of last season, and that he did well in retaining the flower of the old company, who are established favorites here. The house has been marvelously improved since last season, and a great amount of fine new scenery has been added. The season opens auspiciously, and we hope it will be successful throughout. "Sam" this evening.

FIFTH AVENUE OPERA HOUSE.—Oliver Doud Byron made his first appearance at this house Saturday night. To say than his reception was flattering would give no idea of the unbounded enthusiasm of his immense audience. Manager Beamer has certainly made a most fortunate stroke in securing an actor of so high a character as Mr. Byron, with which to inaugurate a season that promises to be so full of close rivalry in the legitimate business, as the present. The stock company, on this occasion, fully maintained the reputation they made for themselves during the week. Mr. Byron must feel that he is admirably supported. "Across the Continent" will hold the boards for this week.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—On Wednesday night, Tony Pastor, the foremost delineator of negro eccentricities of the age, begins an engagement with his full troupe, for four nights only. This troupe is one of the very best now traveling, and the present opportunity to witness them is one that should not be allowed to pass as they are not a regular traveling troupe and seldom perform outside their own house in New York.

A Card—Change of Base.

TO MY FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS:

I would respectfully announce that I am now connected with the Drug and Prescription store of William H. Brill, on the corner of Federal and Lacock streets, Allegheny, where I shall be pleased to see my former customers, friends and acquaintances, with everything in the drug or medicine line. I also continue to manufacture my liniment and diarrhea mixture so long and favorably known to the public. All orders addressed to Mr. Brill will receive immediate attention. My friends keeping store in the country will find here one of the most complete stocks of goods suitable for their trade, such as Grocers' Drugs, Sodas, Dye Stuffs, Paints, Oils, &c. The retail department is fitted up in elegant style and the goods kept are first class, with a view of meriting the patronage of all who are in favor of progress. The prescription department is managed with especial care and accuracy, and Mr. Brill prides himself on the fact that an error has never occurred in his store. All who are under the necessity of using medicine should see that the remedy is pure, or else the skill of the physician is wasted, as bad drugs will invariably do more harm than good. Respectfully,

J. MITCHELL.

Camp Meeting—Unfavorable Weather—Accident on the Railroad—Impolitic Action.

[From our Special Correspondent.]

MCKEESPORT, August 27, 1871.

The principal matter of local interest about town at present is the camp meeting now in progress at the "White Oak Level," near Riverside station. The meeting has been conducted since its opening under the auspices of the most unfavorable character. It began on Thursday evening, and slight sprinkling of rain during Thursday afternoon, with the appearance of inclement weather at night fall was sufficient to cause the assemblage to be limited in point of numbers almost exclusively to the tent holders The opening sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Moffat, pastor of the M. E. Church at this place, and was one of his finest efforts. Friday opened up wet and continued so throughout the day and night, in consequence of which there were no religious services at the stand during the day. Prayer-meetings were, however, conducted in several tents about the circle. Saturday was a more favorable day, the sun shining out beautifully through the day. But toward evening it became cloudy and threatened rain, and the attendance was but small, otherwise a large audience would no doubt have assembled.

Sunday is generally the day of days at camp-meeting, but to-day, the usual Sunday's audience did not put in an appearance. It commenced to rain at an early hour, and continued with some short intervals to do so until about two o'clock. Since that time the appearances for fair weather have been much more favorable, and probably a large crowd of hearers will attend to-night and during the remainder of the meeting.

Last night, or rather this morning, about three o'clock, the engine attached to a freight train going East ran off the track just below town, dragging two cars with it. The engine was badly used up, but happily no one was hurt. Fortunately the accident happened where there is a side track, and hence other trains following were not detained.

The action of the Borough Council, at an adjourned meeting on Thursday evening, held for the purpose of considering the request of the P. & C. R. R. that they allowed the privilege of placing a track on Locust street, was of such a character as to have the request withdrawn by the company. The following extract from the Times, expresses the opinion of at least some of our citizens concerning the action.

"We regret the short-sighted caution which characterized the action of Council in this matter, and feel certain that the growth and prosperity of McKeesport has been materially retarded thereby. The company had designed making considerable improvements there, but these will doubtless be placed at other points where every facility to the proper and expeditious working of the road can be readily obtained. The fact may not be generally known that the company has the right of using any of the borough streets with the exception of Locust, which is a new thoroughfare, and was in existence when the right of way we speak of was granted. It will, however, be seen by this that the granting of the company's petition would have precluded the probability of any of the other streets being occupied for the purpose desired, and that really the company were conceded instead of dictating. But, however, we can only now express our regret at the illiberality displayed by Council in this matter."

A slight fire occurred here on Thursday morning. The house of Mr. McRoberts, at the corner of Fifth and Walnut streets, caught fire in the garret from a defective flue. The citizens succeeded in saving the building which was damaged to the extent of perhaps $300. It is fully insured.

Singular Case of Female Adventure, Devotion and Death.

[From the Oshkosh Northwestern, Aug. 18.]

One of the most remarkable instances of woman's attachment to man and heroism under adversity came to our notice to-day. To begin at the commencement we will state that in 1860 a young lady in the city of Auburn, N. Y., the daughter of wealthy parents, eloped with a young man named Niles, a railroad engineer, and both proceeded to Cleveland, Ohio, and afterwards to Toledo. They were pursued by an infuriated brother of the young lady, and in the latter place, to avoid detection after the marriage ceremony had been performed, the young lady arrayed herself in male attire. In this disguise, and while selling apples, she passed her brother several times on the street without recognition on his part. Shortly afterward, early in the war the two went south to Nashville, Tennessee, where Niles procured employment as a locomotive engineer, his wife engaging as a fireman, still keeping up her disguise. Between Nashville and Chattanooga a shot from a rebel inflicted a serious wound upon the engineer, and he was taken to the government hospital at Murfreesboro, Tennessee. His wife followed, and to her careful nursing Niles owes his life. When sufficiently recovered to endure the hardships of traveling, they returned to Cleveland. A few months later the alleged gold discoveries at Mandock, Canada, attracted them thither, and the wife accompanied her husband, still in masculine garments. The vicissitudes of her career, exposed to hardships and accidents, were too severe, however, and a few weeks since she died at Cleveland after a brief illness. Niles, who is now in that city, is a man about forty years of age, and does not refer to the heroic devotion of his wife but in terms of the warmest admiration.

Singular Suicide.

The Indianapolis People gives the following account of a most singular suicide which occurred near Philadelphia, a short distance east of the city, on Thursday week:

"A farmer was threshing his grain, by steam power, near the road side, when a well-dressed stranger drove up in a buggy, got out, tied his horse, and came to the machine. He first went to the engineer and asked the privilege of feeding the machine for a while, and was referred to the feeder. The feeder, seeing no reason to refuse letting him try his hand, yielded his post, which the stranger filled with ability. After it running a short time, he looked to the engineer for more steam, which the engineer put on and then, while the machine was going at lightning speed, he motioned the man handling sheaves to stop, and as soon as the teeth were clear he doubled up his arms and threw himself headforemost into the thresher, before the horror stricken observers had an idea of his intention. He was literally torn in pieces in an instant. No clue to his identity could be discovered; his pocketbook contained $30, but nothing in the way of papers. The citizens of Philadelphia are still in the dark as regards the name of the man or the cause of his making away with himself."

A Hurricane.

In Zarate, a city of the Argentine Republic, there happened on the 8th of June last a frightful hurricane with stones. The Cordova Prensa describes it as follows: "It was about 4:30 A. M; the atmosphere without the slightest breeze and suffocating. The clouds went on slowly accumulating in great masses in the west; 5 A. M., struck, when a dull yet frightful sound was heard far off to the westward. A minute afterwards the storm broke in an awful form. It began with a sound like the discharge of heavy artillery, with lightning. The pampero wind swept over with unusual violence and fury, bringing with it a cloud of stones, such as never had been seen before. These stones, some as large as goose-eggs, fell everywhere. Houses, huts and roofs of all sorts suffered terribly; some were knocked over, others unroofed, and all injured. Not a pane of glass or a public lamp survived unbroken, and many were carried to a great distance by the force of the wind. Buildings exposed to the fury of the blast looked as if a rifle corps had been doing their best against them. Many animals were reported killed, and one woman and a child.

A Very Narrow Escape.

The New Orleans Republican says: The outline of a singular circumstance was last evening related to us as a fact. Not many days ago a child was very sick, and last week apparently expired. A certificate was furnished by a physician, and the family and friends followed it to a cemetery. Just when the grave was to be closed, the child raised its voice, crying pitifully. The mourning mother's sorrow was suddenly changed to the wildest joy. With a natural impulse she grasped her darling, and ran home in a state of mind bordering on insanity, leaving the funeral to seek a solution for itself. Not less than forty persons witnessed this unusual proceeding, and many of them were inquisitive as to the doctor who gave the certificate that death had claimed the child. We shall endeavor to learn his name and standing. Such things may happen occasionally, but people lose faith in the abilities of such a physician.

INDIANA.

Saengerfest.

EVANSVILLE, August 26.—The Saengerfest attracted a large number of people from all over Southern Indiana and various parts of Kentucky. The weather was favorable and the procession very large. The houses all along the line of march were beautifully decorated.

ARRESTED FOR STEALING.

A. W. Carpenter, a young man of about twenty-four years, was arrested to-day charged with stealing $20,000 in bonds from his father, Willard Carpenter, of the Straight Line Railroad, one of the wealthiest men in the city.

MURDER.

EVANSVILLE, August 27.—An unprovoked murder was committed about two o'clock to-day. Edward Tohill, a cartman, was stabbed by Eugene Sullivan, a flatboatman, with a pocket knife, in the arm pit, cutting an axillary artery and axillary vein, from which he bled to death in three minutes. Sullivan ran and was caught about six squares from the Court House, where the deed was committed. Sullivan has been in the penitentiary in Missouri for killing a comrade in the army. Tohill leaves a wife and five children.

THE SAENGERFEST.

The concert of the Saengerfest was largely attended on Saturday night. The pic-nic to day was very pleasant. But one disturbance occurred, and that was caused by rowdies, who were knocked down and locked up.

RELEASED.

Young Carpenter, who was arrested at his father's instance on a charge of stealing $20,000, was released to-day. There is said to be a good defense to the alleged larceny.

ARKANSAS.

Railroad Contract.

LITTLE ROCK, August 26.—Advices received here state that a contract has been closed for the iron and equipments of the entire line of the Helena and Little Rock or Central Railroad, including the branches from Aberdeen, on White river, to Pine Bluff, and from Aberdeen to Clarion, all to be delivered by April 1st, 1872. This is a narrow gauge road, and will be the first road completed of that gauge in the South. This is the only railroad in the State to which State aid has been awarded that has moved along quietly. Everything points to its early completion.

THE CROPS.

The crop reports are not so favorable in some localities. The cotton, owing to the dry weather has commenced shedding. Worms are also reported in some of the Red river counties. The corn crop is very promising.

BISHOP ELECTED.

The Right Rev. H. N. Pierce was to-day elected, by the Primary Convention of the Episcopal Church now in session, Bishop of the Diocese of Arkansas.

BOSTON BATHS.

Seventeen Free Baths.

A Boston correspondent of the New York Evening Post says:

At this date there are no less than seventeen free baths in full use. Five of them are exclusively for females and the remainder for males. Some of them are moored at the wharfs and in docks where a free and generous flow of water is to be had, and some are built upon beaches in the more open portions of the city, and all are perfectly free. All one has to do is to take the shortest path to the office of the bath-house, demand a key from the superintendent, and walk to the closet designated upon a brass tag attached. After disrobing he is free to disport in the brine to his heart's content, in an ample tank four and a half feet in depth. If he has brought no towel with him, he may buy the use of a course one for three cents, while if he feels careless in this matter, he is assured that only thirty bathers in two hundred act differently; that is, only fifteen per cent. of his companions dry themselves by artificial means. He will come out a renovated man, and happy with the thought that there is nothing to pay.

COST OF THE BATH-HOUSE.

Every man has a taste for figures, so that, perhaps, it is well to state that these seventeen bath houses of Boston cost something less than $23,000 and that each bath costs the city four cents plus. The structures are very simple in arrangement, and are little more than screens from the public gaze, together with facilities for seclusion while dressing and arrangements for safety while bathing. Apertures in the sides and bottoms of the tanks permit a constant current of water through and through, and flights of steps lead down from the platforms, upon which open the little closets, arranged on three sides.

ADVANTAGES OF THE SYSTEM.

Now, the beauty of this system of free baths is that exactly that class of people use them that was intended, and this cannot be always said of other public benefactions. In every city there is a host of people to whom one thorough plunge and frolic in plenty of water is a joy never felt. They live on from day to day, year in and year out, with no conception of water beyond the few pints which they use before work in the morning, and are entirely ignorant of the vigor and elasticity which is developed by going if all over.

They loll in hot and small apartments, breathe bad air, talk little and laugh less. Carelessness of habits, morals and conduct ensues as a natural consequence, and sickness and distemper bring up the rear.

Everybody knows the unhealthy apathy which pervades a workingman's quarter at nightfall, when, with dusty bodies and tired muscles, they give up one day to get rested for the struggle on the next, and the weariness to be found in the sewing-girls' garrets has been heralded and displayed too often to be dwelt on here. Anything that can spread vigor and cleanliness among exhausted workers must plainly be valuable, and that was a happy idea which took shape in such baths as these.

A LUXURY.

The hard worked man has now a good, tangible luxury to look forward to through the heat and labor of the day, and eight o'clock P. M. finds him enjoying it to the top of his bent. He loves to get rid of the strains of his work, and comes roaring down the plank walks with a throng of companions, and is overboard in a moment. There is no madder thing on this earth, than a workman with his spirits up. If you look in at the door of one of these baths on a summer evening you see forty elephantine human beings plunging, blowing, laughing and struggling with all the vigor of the wildest set of school boys. Nothing is too monstrous for them to do; they wallow like buffalos, and make the spray fly in sheets; they mutually duck each other, and hearty shouts rise on the evening air, mingling with the noisy churning of the water.

Muscular young mechanics abound; fellows with straight figures, bunchy upper arms and gladiatorial carriage. Swarthy foundry men come down to take their evening dip, and hundreds of team drivers, 'longshoremen, porters and all kinds of citizens do likewise. They enjoy it. They plunge in with a zest and have a good time. They come out renovated, clean, supple and in splendid spirits.

NUMBER OF BATHERS.

In the year 1870, that is June, July, August and September, there were no less than 1,397,914 baths taken at these plain and inexpensive institutions. Think of the figures for a moment and you will better appreciate what they mean; also consider that the bathers were those who probably needed the bathing, but who would not have got it without the aid and conveniences of these houses.

These figures also show the astonishing increase over the year of 1868 of 964,224 baths, and also an increase over 1869 of 346,840 baths, an increase more surprising still, as the number of bath-houses in those two years was nearly the same.

It would be futile to descant upon the good worked in the community by this free use of the bathing facilities. The influences extend very far indeed, and pervade almost every phase of city life and work. Elasticity creeps insensibly but perceptibly into the labors of the day, health gains a new and potent preservative, and good humor and happiness are sure to drag in the wake. Now that such great benefits as sanitary and moral improvement have been won so easily, it is a constant matter of astonishment that so many heads and so much time have not produced the plan before; it seems simple enough to build a few plain boxes and put them in the water, and then invite the populace to come freely and use them, but now, having achieved the step, it only remains to keep pace with the demand by furnishing enough of the boxes, and also to urge upon all other cities in the country a similar arrangement, or a better one if they can produce it.

—Charles Lyndsey, aged twenty-one, was drowned in an attempt to save two boys who were thrown from a boat in Bristol, R. I., harbor on Saturday. He swam with one boy to the shore, but in returning for the other his strength failed and he sank.

$547,927 in gold were spent by the city of Berlin, for the support of her poor in 1870.

As usual on Saturday, transactions were not numerous, and prices remain unchanged from yesterday. Sellers are, however, quite scarce, nearly all owners of oil being firm believers that higher prices will rule. We were informed that $4.95 was bid at Oil City, but heard of no sales above $4.90.
